ABOUT THE TRADITIONAL COPYRIGHT

It is customary for editors of college annuals to copyright their books. Though we know of many cases in which the monopoly thereby granted has been disregarded, we have heard of none in which it was enforced.

Personally, we wish no monopoly whatsoever on our book. Anyone who so desires may utilize its contents in part or as a whole, and in so doing will compliment us.

Charles E. Peterson

WAY back in October of 1916 a young man came to the college as an assistant instructor in physical education. His name was Mr. Charles E. Peterson.

Since that time, except for the period that he served overseas during the world war, Mr. Charles E. Peterson has been an inseparable part of us.

We have always felt him worthy of our confidences. We have always had an idea that, no matter how trite or how serious our problems, he would be personally interested in them. He is as human as a man can be.

Our book is dedicated to him because we like him.

WHY WE ARE LIKE THIS

A State College Student, driving last Summer over the lonesome road through Death Valley, met a car bearing the Aztec insignia upon its windshield. For both drivers there was a thrill of recognition, though neither was acquainted with the other. The Aztec Spirit was there, creating a mutual bond of good fellowship between the two.

« « » »

The Spirit is present in the theme of our book.
You may notice it in the covers.
You may recognize it in the art.
You will find it in the events.

RECOLLECTIONS OF THE PAST

*I*T was on March 13, 1897, that an act of Legislature established the State Normal School in San Diego, and the first classes were received in the fall of 1898. One of the signers of the bill, Assemblyman Guy, had used a pearl-handled gold pen in the signing; and it was at his suggestion that white and gold were taken as the school colors in commemoration of this significant deed. Samuel T. Black, at that time State Superintendent of Education, was chosen to be the first president of the school, because of his experience in several fields as well as in the educational.

President Black, in order to have something "alive" with which to back his never ceasing efforts at Sacramento, established the school in temporary quarters over a "One-cent Novelty" Store at Sixth and F streets. That first semester showed an enrollment of ninety-one students and a faculty of eight members, with the training-school classes averaging twelve pupils.

On May 1, 1899, the new Normal School building on University Heights was publically dedicated. By this time all was well organized, good relations had been made with the citizens of San Diego, and the faculty, which was made up wholly of university-trained men and women, was being enlarged. (Only one of this first faculty is at present in the college: she is Dr. Pratt of the library, who was called from Vassar to head the English department.)

DEL SUDOESTE 1932

In 1910 Dr. Edward L. Hardy, principal of the high school, was recommended by President Black and chosen as his successor to the presidency of the school.

A legislative act that became effective July 28, 1921, designated this school, together with all California Normal Schools, as a State Teacher's College, the local institution being officially named the "State Teacher's College of San Diego". In the meantime, under a legislative enactment of the same year, the San Diego Junior College was merged with the Teachers' College; and the four-year curricula leading to the A. B. degree (major in Education) was established June 30, 1923.

The first realizations of the new college came when the Enabling Bill, which authorized the sale of the old site, was passed in May, 1925. Then came the matter of appropriations. In 1928 the bonds were voted and the new site selected by process of elimination, and State appropriations in 1929 and 1931 brought a total of nearly one million dollars.

The first classes on the new campus met in February, 1931, and on May 1, 1931, President Hardy saw the realization of his dream with the dedication and laying of the corner stone.

The present building plan is now completed except for the physical education unit, which is to be ready a year from now. Campus roads are to be finished this summer, and landscaping is awaiting the completion of roads and buildings. A second ten-year building plan is being drawn up, and will include permanent quarters for the Art and Music departments, a Science lecture hall, an auditorium, and the Student Union building.

In the passing of the thirty-four years since the founding, the small frame building has given way to a new college on a 125 acre campus; and, even more significant, the ninety-one students who met together in 1898 have grown to a present student body of 1365.

ADMINISTRATION

OUR PRESIDENT
SPEAKS

*D*ANIEL H. Burnham, Chicago architect, in addressing a gathering in London a long time ago, had the temerity to speak to the representatives of an old and conservative civilization, the following words:

"Make no little plans; they have no magic to stir men's blood, and probably themselves will not be realized. Make big plans—Remember that our sons and grandsons are going to do things that would stagger us. Let your watchword be order and your beacon beauty."

Brave words, so brave that they will be realized some day, even in Chicago. Brave words of all former times, conned and rehearsed and memorized by generation after generation of college students. Memorized and rehearsed. In the beginning the word, and in the end only the word? Or shall we have action?

Edward L. Hardy

DEL SUDOESTE 1932

PRESIDENT EDWARD L. HARDY

THIS page is about President Edward L. Hardy. We could tell you the usual things but instead we will pass on to you something that he told us once.

We were in his office, talking of many things. For no particular reason, we mentioned human nature, suggesting to Dr. Hardy that his opportunity for observing that elusive object was indeed enviable.

"I doubt it," he replied. "If I were a waiter in a restaurant, now, I might have a better chance. I would then be able to see the real characters of people as I am seldom able to in my present work. Might it not be pleasant to work only eight hours a day, earn just enough money to support a comfortable home, and then go to that home after work each day with the time and peace of mind to settle by the fireside and enjoy a good book?"

But just the same, we would stake our fly-leaf against a doughnut that if Dr. Hardy were to start out as a waiter, he would be head waiter inside of a month, would run the restaurant in two months, and within a year would be running a whole chain of "Hardy Houses" all over the country.

For was it not this same eager imagination which he exposed to us that made him become president of our college?

VICE-PRESIDENT

*I*RVING E. Outcalt has served the college as both vice-president and head of the English department since 1912. He also holds a place in the field of creative writing.

Many students have come to know Mr. Outcalt as a sincere and interested friend. Very truly, it is said, a great part of success in a college career depends on the fine contacts made with leaders in the different fields. Vice-President Outcalt is one of our finest associates.

DEAN OF WOMEN

FOR a brief three months Dean Ada Hughes Coldwell resumed her office, after having been away from the college on a year's leave of absence. In March of this year an illness forced her to withdraw temporarily from active service.

She came to us originally as head of the Home Economics department. For the past thirteen years, as Dean of Women, she has endeared herself to a host of students. The effect of her devoted friendship for us has been felt in many forms of college life.

DEAN OF MEN

CHARLES E. Peterson, able administrator in the offices of Dean of Men, Associate Professor of Physical Education, and Director of Physical Education for Men, has shown himself a whole-hearted friend in athletic as well as scholastic matters, and has been a most important factor in building up the new spirit of the college.

Dean Ada Hughes Coldwell

DEAN OF EDUCATION

*J*ESSE W. Ault, Dean and Professor of Education and Principal of the Training School, fills his offices with proficiency.

Through his studies of modern educational problems and methods, he has brought the Department of Education and the Training School to a high standard of excellence.

DEAN OF LIBERAL ARTS

*D*IRECTLY in the hands of Arthur G. Peterson, Dean of Liberal Arts and Professor of Economics, lie the destinies of many students. More than one groping wanderer has by his efficient counseling, been set upon the correct path of life.

His enthusiastic support of extra-curricular activities has won for him no small place in the regard of the student body. As a regular participator in the affairs of the Council of Twelve he has had a hand in numberless activities that have helped to make college a pleasant place.

The Foreign Language Department offers an ample program in French, German, Latin and Spanish. It attempts to teach not only the practical aspect of each language, but to induce a deeper appreciation of each as well.

GEOGRAPHY

The study of fundamental principles of geography and the application of those principles to various regions of the world is the scope of the Geography Department.

HISTORY

In this age of world unrest the History Department is especially valuable in presenting to the student man's experiences of the past. May they help to solve present and future problems!

SENIOR CLASS

WITH a spirit of interest which was made manifest by the large attendance at all class meetings, the June class of 1932 carried out a number of activities incidental to preparing for commencement. The first event was a banquet honoring the February graduates and also celebrating President Hardy's birthday.

Re-inauguration of the Baccalaureate Day exercises was carried out, and the service was set for the Sunday preceding Commencement. The traditional Senior Prom was omitted from the calendar this year because of insufficient finances.

The last social event of the Senior Class was the banquet given June 3 on the campus honoring the June graduates. Inez Parkman and Raymond Bell were in charge of banquets, Clara Louise Butler was baccalaureate chairman, and Edwin Robinson was appointed class marshal.

*T*HROUGH whole-hearted interest in class and student body affairs, the Junior class has done much to further worth while college endeavor. Not only the officers but many other members of the class have been prominent in men's and women's organizations as well as in Associated Students activities.

This year's program on the campus was marked by an important innovation when upper classmen combined efforts in presenting a most successful Junior-Senior prom.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

*T*HE Sophomores have fully upheld the traditions of that class by individual and group participation in campus activities. At the opening of the semester they presided over the Freshman Court. Discipline was very successfully administered to "freshies," although the incoming class outnumbered the Sophomores many times.

In advancing the intra mural spirit, the class presented an assembly during the spring semester, composed entirely of Sophomore talent. The class also participated in the annual sack rush, at which they were put off the field by the more numerous "pea greens".

FRESHMAN CLASS

*T*HROUGH class co-operation and enthusiasm, the Freshmen have reached a high record in class attainment.

Winning the annual sack-rush with the Sophomores, the group also took inter-class honors in basketball, track, and the Irish Marathon. A banquet and program were given in honor of students entering in February. Co-operation of the class also made possible Senior class day given for high school seniors. Other class activities included a Freshman assembly and the maintaining of a bulletin board.

During the opening week the Traditions Court meted out punishments to the majority of the class.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

*T*HE activities of the San Diego State College Alumni Association have not only been based upon a responsibility for the present year, but in the laying of a firm foundation for future activities. Projects sponsored by the association this year have attempted to bring the members closer together for a greater service to the college.

At a later function in February, the Board met with representatives of the Student Body and officials of the college at the Student Union Cafe. Plans and policies for the future were suggested and outlined by Dean A. G. Peterson and Graduate Manager Alvin H. Morrison. Mrs. Mary I. McMullen, Placement Secretary offered to cooperate with the Board in bringing the file of Alumni members up to date. Through her cooperation, it was possible to secure an office in the Administration Building of the College. Miss Virginia Place accepted the responsibility of carrying on this work. Members of the Alumni Association will be pleased to know that they now have a "home" on the campus.

*T*HE organization about which is centered every student activity of the campus is the Associated Students of San Diego State College. It is the central governing body of college projects and has as a controlling group the Student Council of elective members who act as the policy-determining body for the larger organization. Expenditures of student money are made by the Council with the approval of the Finance Board, and other decisions of policy and regulations are made at the weekly Council meetings.

This year's officers were: Arthur Swarner, President; Clara Louise Butler, Vice-president; Carol Nelson, Secretary and Jack Ferguson, Commissioner of Finance.

An important event of the year in the central organization was the incorporation of the student body to protect individual students or faculty members from financial responsibility.

ELECTED in June, 1931, to succeed Robley Veall in the capacity of Associated Students' president, Arthur Swarner has fulfilled capably the many duties and responsibilities entailed by the position. Besides supervising student affairs and promoting outside recognition of college activities, he has gone a step further by making nation-wide contacts with student officers for the purpose of exchanging ideas and suggestions.

Formerly a member of the Student Council and college yell leader, Swarner had already gained a thorough knowledge of the management of campus affairs when he was selected for the post.

Besides taking an active part in Southern California Student Presidents' Association meetings and discussions, Swarner represented State College at the annual convention of the National Student Federation of America held in Toledo December 27 to 31.

FINANCE BOARD

Jack Ferguson

WITH the idea of gaining a clearer and more impartial perspective of the needs of the college, the Finance Board is composed of people from all branches of the institution, including the graduate manager, the student body president, a faculty and student representative, and the Commissioner of Finance who presides over meetings.

The duty of the body is to allot funds by a preliminary budget made up from past records in the various departments, and to pass or reject requisitions made during the year. These expenditures, however, must also be approved by the Student Council.

Members for the fall semester were: Graduate Manager Alvin Morrison, Student Body President Arthur Swarner, Professor L. P. Brown, and George Al Berry. Spring semester board members were: Morrison, Swarner, Berry and Professor Baird. Jack Ferguson, commissioner of finance, presided over the group throughout the year.

COURT OF TRADITIONS

ONE bright September morn the eager-eyed Freshman class was greeted with gorgeous green warnings relating to traditions and proper conduct. When these novices foolishly defied their betters by plastering green numerals on floors and walls and floating a '35 banner from the flagstaff, the Sophomores made manifest their supremacy by forcing the Frosh to remove the results of their ill considered efforts.

At the first court of traditions negligent Freshmen were chastened in large numbers for their unbecoming actions. Swats for the men and domestic duties for the women illustrated that the warnings were backed by grim justice.

The presiding Justice of the Court, Keith Atherton, was seconded by a jury of Sophomore athletes.

In the annual Sack Rush the Freshmen, constituting nearly half the student body, emerged victorious, but in the daily walks of life were kept in submission by the second-year men.

GRADUATE MANAGER

A HIGH standard of quality has stamped the activities of the students of San Diego State College during the past year. The season just ended has brought forth work which is more representative than any previous year of the high calibre of talent which is to be found among the members of the student body. We can safely say that the department of dramatics, music, student publications, debating, athletics and various activities which fall under student management have attained a higher plane of achievement than ever before.

The purpose of this office is to serve in handling their affairs. Its aim is to coordinate the different branches of student endeavor in order that each may get its just support from all departments. It is the duty of the Graduate Manager's office to see that students conduct their activities within the budget established by the finance board, and uphold the policies and traditions of the College which have stood the test of years.

It is the hope of this department that it can rapidly increase the physical equipment in order to broaden the scope of student activities.

Aztec Cafe

AZTEC SHOPS

ESTABLISHED many years ago, the bookstore has gone through many periods of transition but is now permanently located in the Student Club Building.

In its larger, permanent space the store has been a valuable addition to student life, serving as a distributing center for student needs.

The store is managed by Alvin H. Morrison, and its control is governed by the Bookstore Committee composed of Dr. E. L. Hardy, Miss Alvena Suhl, Dr. R. Cameron and Mr. W. H. Wright of the faculty and George Berry, Helen Squires, and Arthur Swarner of the Associated Students.

Last summer Mr. Morrison attended the national meeting of the College Bookstore Convention held in Salt Lake City. This spring he attended the meetings of the Pacific Coast division of the same organization held in Seattle.

With the location in the Student Club Building the store has an addition to its equipment in the nature of a combined cafe and fountain under the direction of Clarence Randeques. With a seating capacity of 125 and the most modern equipment that could be obtained, the restaurant division of the Aztec Shops Ltd. has been a dominant factor in student campus life.

RALLY COMMITTEE

RESPONSIBLE for pep-arousing activities during the State College football season was the rally committee under the chairmanship of Art Linkletter. Other members of the group were George Cornell, Harriett Merrick, Ramona Shattuck, and Evan Roberts.

A novel rally event held as the first one of the season was the annual Aztec Treasure Hunt. Searchers in cars followed clues around the city until the treasure was finally unearthed at the radio towers by a Freshman. The treasure seekers then adjourned to Mt. Helix for a program and refreshments.

A dance at the San Diego Hotel after the Pomona game was followed on Thanksgiving eve by a gigantic bonfire pow-wow before the Caltech contest. This gathering marked the first rally to be held on the new campus.

Card stunts during the football season were arranged by a sub-committee directed by Aylmer Keith.

Pep assemblies, card stunts, receptions for returning teams, and between-half stunts were also arranged by the rally committee.

Speakers introduced from the Little Theatre stage included Lyman Bryson, Professor Lewis B. Lesley, and Dr. Franklin D. Walker. The Oxford debate idea was carried out in a series of informal assemblies, at which questions concerning the student body were discussed.

Frank Guthrie, in charge of fall programs, was assisted by Beulah Kane, Clayton Mosher, Katharine Pendleton, Virginia Place, Mary Glen Roche, and Arthur Swarner; while the ambitious spring assemblies were principally the work of Clayton Mosher.

ASSOCIATED MEN STUDENTS

THE Associated Men Students have been exceptionally active during the past year under the leaderships of Vernon Schraeder and Arthur Kelly. The men students were guests at a stag smoker at Germania Hall on November 6. A Giant Dutch lunch completed the program which consisted of wrestling, vaudeville acts and presentation of trophies.

On May 19, the annual stag barbecue was held on the college campus. Seniors and coaches from the neighboring high schools, sport reporters of the city newspapers, men interested in physical education for young men were invited to attend, and the men of the college. Following the barbecue, the guests met in the Little Theatre for the presentation of a musical program, athletic exhibitions, and the presentation of the most-valuable-player awards to men in the eight competitive sports.

Funds were also collected for the placing of a concrete bench near the cafe and for the installation of stone benches near the entrance to the library. The rebuilding of the Mammoth "S" on Black Mountain, the largest college letter in the world, was financed and supervised by the A. M. S. officers.

Officers of the year were Vernon Schraeder, President, fall semester; Arthur Kelly, President, spring semester; Arthur Linkletter, Vice President; Paul McMichael, Secretary and Hugh McArthur, Treasurer.

ONE ACT PLAY TOURNAMENT

THE One Act Play Tournament has met with increasing favor and success from year to year. The accumulation of experience from the past three tournaments and the wholehearted enthusiasm of the students participating in this one have made it a signal triumph in student initiative.

Twenty-one one-act plays competed. This meant that more than two hundred students contributed their efforts in the writing, costuming, acting, directing, and staging of these plays. The opportunity afforded by this tournament for the production of student plays has been and will be an incentive for original play writing and will be a means of uncovering talent.

"The Dance Below," the Sophomore play directed by Katharine Pendleton, was a melancholy tragedy set in Hell.

"Mansions," a Freshman tragedy directed by Amorita Treganza, gave a sublimated conception of death. Its heroine, Lucille Knowles, received the award for the best individual acting in a tragedy part.

The Freshman comedy, "Sparkin," directed by Thelma Padgett was a clever, farcical, love story. The portrayal of Orry Sparks in this play gave Richard W. Wilson the cup for the best comedy acting.

"Come True," the Sophomore comedy directed by Dudley Armstrong, presented the touching reunion of old lovers in a poor house.

The foregoing four plays were presented on December 10; the following night the five original plays competed. The original plays had the additional distinction of winning the awards for both the best directed comedy, which was "Ten Thousand Pesos," written and directed by Mercedes Shea Gleason, and the best directed tragedy, Edith Brandeis' "The Killer," directed by Milford Ellison, who also received the cup for art directing in recognition of his superior work on this play.

The poetic comedy, "The Room of the Rising Tide," written and directed by Rachel Harris Campbell; the "Rutnamah's Lament," a Hindu tragedy written by Mrs. Della Dudley and directed by Richard Dudley; and "Help Wanted—Male," a farce by Marjorie Hart which was directed by Evelyn Cooper, all showed outstanding talent.

SUTTON Vane's symbolical play, "Outward Bound," which is set on an imaginary ship leaving the shores of Life to ply between Heaven and Hell, was presented by dual Freshman casts on April 7 and 8, 1932, at the State College Theater.

The action is concerned with the realization of the characters that they are dead. The hero and heroine find that they can not go on in Death because they evaded Life. The other characters find that life in Death begins where it left off when death intervened, with some alteration in position to achieve justice.

AZTEC FOLLIES

SURPASSING all its predecessors in class and magnitude, "Pressure," 1932 Aztec Follies presentation given on March 10 and 11, was the first one in the history of State College revues to present an Aztec setting as one of the sets.

The story, originated by Art Linkletter, of an American expedition going into the heart of Mexico in search of a forgotten Aztec city, was ably supported by John Crofton's original music written to fit the settings. A scene on an ocean liner, one in a Mexican port town, and another in the midst of the jungle were climaxed by the pagan majesty of an Aztec court, with its sacrificial dais and altar.

Frank Guthrie and Madalyn Thatch were cast in the juvenile leads and were ably supported by a large cast of collegians, of which the comedy teams of Charles Cannon and Jewell Elliott and Byron Masterson and Helen Haubrick were most notable. Sets designed by Harold Otwell and costumes by Adelaide Schumann added realism to each scene.

DEBATE

*T*HE debate team coached by Mr. Paul Pfaff indulged this year in the most intensive campaign in the history of the college. Though all contests were non-decision, the participants gained much experience throughout the interesting season.

Teams picked from the Debate Club argued upon the question, "Resolved, that Congress should enact legislation providing for the central control of industry, constitutionality waived."

The season opened April 1st with a dual debate here with Southwestern University. On April 6th and 7th three Aztec teams journeyed north to meet U. S. C., Occidental, and Caltech. Home debates with Occidental on April 8th and U. S. C. on April 15th completed the itinerary.

Members of the team were John Andrews, Vernon Bryson, Josephine Francis, Roy French, Tom Greer, Evelyn Kunze, Byron Masterson, Norman Rein, Alice Smith, Dwight Stanford, Katherine Stoll, Marian Tweedy, Sam Weimberg, and Manager Nathan Naiman.

*T*HROUGH its participation in a number of programs at Scripps Cottage, over the radio, and for various school entertainments, the instrumental trio has become popular.

Members of the trio are: Leonora Jenkins, violin; Lucy Schatzel, cello; and Rena Case, piano.

It has been heard on the Aztec Radio Half-Hour, at programs in Scripps' Cottage, and during the One-act play tournament.

On several occasions the quartet played selections composed by Grace Walker, student in the music department.

*E*NJOYING the most successful year since its organization, the College band proved a valuable asset at all its appearances. Under the direction of George Thompson and the supervision of Fred Beidleman of the music department, the band appeared at football games, rallies, assemblies, and other college functions.

The climax of the season occurred during the Thanksgiving Day football game between California Institute of Technology and San Diego. Since this was Homecoming Day for the alumni, an impressive ceremony was devised by Thompson for the occasion.

The band, numbering more than fifty members, includes: Ned Anthony, Carroll Austin, Edgar Austin, George Austin, Richard Boronda, Joseph Butcher, Donald Christie, Harrison Christie, Frank Clark, James Couey, Paul Couey, Howard Curtis, Hubert Curtis, Joe Dillon, Jack Ferguson, Paul Flack, Andrew Gallant, Fred Goode, John Hartley, Robert Hartley, Harold Hertz, Leonard Hull, William Hull, James Jamison, Homer Jorgenson, Hamilton Judy, Jerome Krauss, Harold Kurtz, Jack Lane, Robert Leib, Frank Losey, Robert Mathews, Ralph Mentze, James Morgan, Donald Palette, William Perry, Elmer Peterson, Alfred Reid, George Reed, Lionel Reid, James Reynolds, Milton Roberts, Ferguson Sangster, John Selover, Eugene Shapley, Harlan Skinner, Robert Stevenson, Ernest Tarr, William Thurston, Eugene Vacher, George Villman, and George Thompson, director.

DEL SUDOESTE

A MEDIUM showing the progress of a growing college on a wonderful new campus—the development of the Aztec Spirit—are a few of the things which may be found in the 1932 DEL SUDOESTE. It was seven years ago that the Aztec motif was found on the pages of the DEL SUDOESTE, and since that time, the Aztec Spirit has manifested itself among all of the students on the campus. We have attempted to carry forth the spirit into our creation this year.

Many new features will be found in the Del Sudoeste this year. Color is the principle feature. Each page is printed in two or more colors, with the division pages in five colors. The book is larger by forty-eight pages through a more complete account of the various activities on the campus and a more equal distribution of space to the activities. A view section of the buildings and another section devoted to the activities of the women, come forth for the first time.

The staff has attempted to present the year's events in a concise manner, using as many photographs of the events as we could obtain. We have attempted to add interest to each section and page through the use of modern layouts in the arrangement of type and photos.

This is far from a perfect book, but we believe that it is an improvement over previous DEL SUDOESTES. May it serve as an impetus to further the Aztec Spirit on our campus.

THE AZTEC

TRADITIONALLY the most widely read of campus publications, The Aztec has this year measured its success in a still larger and more appreciative student-public.

It has been this weekly's purpose to bring to the collegian accurate, informative news and to supply the college journalist with a practical newspaper training. These twin objectives have been largely attained through the courageous editorships of Arline Martin and Victor Whitaker.

Always robustly independent, The Aztec has benefited from the "Hands off" policy of officialdom, necessary direction taking the form of objective criticism from an authorized source. This faculty tolerance has evoked a spirit of self-reliance in the publication office that, coupled with the heartening reception of the news sheet on the campus, made work on The Aztec a pleasant and stimulating experience.

Particularly notable was the vigor and freshness of the editorial page, edited by Gene Lyle III. This page set the tempo for much student discussion and thought in its editorials by Professor H. C. Steinmetz, Richard Lough, and Warren Patrick, and the critical reviews by Ruth McGuire and Wallace Ramsey. Humor columns by John Heater, Art Linkletter, and Euple furnished amusement for "Lit" page readers.

*Arline Martin
Victor Whitaker*

The news staff under the direction of Frank Orr was cut to a smaller number than usual this year; but instead of requiring a large amount of work from each member, the new system was found to add to efficiency and permit more skilled writing. Assistant News Editors, Charlotte Burridge and Eugenia Tolson as well as Jack Taber, Virginia Stork, Dave Titus, and John Andrews, were responsible for much ably written copy.

Edited first by Whitaker and later by James Savage, the Sport page was a source of information and interest to athletes and all collegians for its non-partisan reporting of conference and inter-fraternity events. During the gridiron season Savage wrote inspired "journalese," while Jack Benton, Chris Gregovich, and Herb Tucker were the most consistent contributors in the spring months. Attempting a difficult task, Helen Rhodes cleverly reported W. A. A. and feminine sports.

One of the greatest reader-attracting features of the entire journal was the column, "Hangovers," written by Gregovich. His spontaneous humor and mimicry of campus characters made the column a never-ending source of amusement.

Bettina Benton contributed creditable work in the Society section, reporting the activities of campus sororities and fraternities as well as clubs.

EL PALENQUE

Mary F. Windeatt

THE year for El Palenque has been essentially one of growth—of maturing literary standards drawn from five years of publishing, and of artistic attainments in modern make-up; while the Spring semester was marked by the admittance of the Staff into the Guild of Letters.

El Palenque rejoices in a discriminating audience, the reward of an editorial policy unwilling to compromise its ideals. Upon this stand the Publication Board has re-enlisted its old friends and won many new readers.

In offering its pages to creative material of merit the college quarterly will be proud to continue to represent the best in campus literature and art.

HANDBOOK

*A*PPEARING under the editorship of Victor Whitaker as the first edition to appear on the new campus, the 1931 College Handbook or Frosh Bible was issued to new students in September.

Bound in a newly-designed black cover bearing a picture of the campanile, the Handbook was the first of its kind to initiate the scheme of dividing the contents into four books or sections after the fashion of a college annual.

Editing the departments under the supervision of the editor were Arline Martin, "The College"; Harriette Sargent, "Activities"; James Savage, "Athletics"; and Edward Schwartz, "Fraternalism", all of whom spent a good part of the summer vacation working out new ideas for the bible.

STUDENT
NEWS
BUREAU

*Harry C.
Steinmetz*

FORMED in the fall semester as an agency for dispensing college news to outsiders, State College's first publicity department, in the form of the Student News Bureau, worked throughout that semester as an efficient unit. The idea was first originated by the Council of Twelve and was carried out by recommendation of the Faculty Publications Committee and by action of the Student Council. Gene Lyle, III was appointed director, and was assisted by Jack Taber, Helen Hesselbach, Virginia Stork, Virginia Rush, Charlotte BurrIDGE, Charles Kahn and Arthur Shoven.

Probably the most outstanding achievement of the Student News Bureau was the establishment of College sponsored radio programs. Charles Kahn was manager of the radio division of the bureau and arranged for time with station K G B for the presentation of two different series. The first, a popular series of programs, was called the Aztec Half Hour and attained great popularity throughout the city. The other program was a lecture series with talks each week by prominent faculty members, concerning various phases of education.

The large attendance at many college activities throughout the year was due to activity of the News Bureau. Publicity for the dramatic events and the Aztec Follies, as well as for other activities was well carried out.

A second important organization instituted this year is the Extension Division, under the leadership of Harry C. Steinmetz, who is also largely responsible for the development of the News Bureau. Both departments have worked in close cooperation, and together they have added 185 persons to the college enrollment. The Extension Division has taken over responsibility for the faculty radio programs, resulting in several interesting series of lectures.

ASSOCIATED WOMEN STUDENTS

CLOSING a most successful year on the campus the A. W. S., Associated Womens' Students, composed of every woman in the college, supported the many traditional events besides enlarging the organization's scope of activities.

Delegates were sent to the Pacific Coast Conference of the National Association of College Women Students, held in Oregon during May. This was the first opportunity that A. W. S. officers from San Diego had to attend these annual spring conferences. The Echo Banquet was held May 18th at the Athletic Club, where reports of the conference were given by the delegates. Josephine Seeman was the speaker of the evening.

Since Scripp's cottage was given to the college, the A. W. S. has supported it and financed the landscape gardening of its grounds. A traditional event, the Feminine Frolics was given in the fall for the first time on the new campus in the Little Theater.

Officers of A. W. S. have been Katharine Pendleton, president; Rena Case, vice-president; Frances Boyd, secretary; Harriett Merrick, treasurer; with Rena Case, president elect. Board members are Frances Goree, program chairman; Ramona Shattuck, publicity chairman; and Barbara Jane Crawford, social chairman; and Mrs. Mary McMullen, sponsor.

A Freshman Tea is held at the beginning of each semester as a welcome courtesy to all women students entering the college. This gives each woman student a chance to meet her classmates in a social gathering.

SCRIPPS COTTAGE

SCRIPPS Cottage has come to play a vital part in college activities during its first year on the campus. A dedication tea was held there in the fall in honor of Miss Ellen Scripps, and since then the Cottage has been at the disposal of various organizations. During each school day it has been open to all women students as a place of recreation and relaxation.

The cottage was made possible through the efforts of the College Y. W. C. A., who gave it to the college. Miss Ellen Scripps generously donated six thousand dollars to the Y. W. C. A. for the building fund, and to this sum the State added five thousand dollars.

Scripps Cottage is governed by a board of directors who function as a policy-determining body. The executive committee, composed of representatives from the cabinets of the Y. W. C. A., Associated Women Students, Women's Athletic Association, Inter-Sorority Council, Cetza, and the faculty, is responsible for the management of the Cottage.

Faculty members who have held places on the executive committee this year are: Dr. Myrtle Johnson, chairman, L. Deborah Smith, Mrs. Mary McMullen, Dean Coldwell, and Mrs. Virginia Easterly, honorary member.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

*Helen Squires
President*

EVERY woman student in State College automatically becomes a member of the Women's Athletic Association upon entering the school. The purpose of the organization is to stimulate interest in physical and social activities.

The Girls' Athletic Association of the San Diego College was formed in 1906, but became the Women's Athletic Association in 1922. Since 1924 it has been affiliated with the Athletic Conference of American College Women, and with the National Amateur Athletic Federation since 1927. The latter two are national organizations, formed for the maintenance of high standards in women's athletics and the extension of the general program of sports so that every woman will be able to select activities to her taste.

The Athletic Conference of American College Women is divided into three sections which meet together at a national conference during the latter part of spring. In the intervening months sectional conferences are held. The W. A. A. sends two delegates to participate in the discussion and stimulate interest of the group.

A scheduled calendar of four or five major social activities is planned each year for the following year. A tea for freshmen women usually marks the beginning of the round of social activities. Other annual events are the Sport Hop, Play Day, the Formal Banquet at the end of the school year, and various sport parties planned by group managers.

HEALTH Week was perhaps the most outstanding event on the W. A. A. program for the fall semester of the school year. A vote was passed at the Athletic Conference of American College Women at Reno, Nevada, a year ago, to set aside one week, November 16-29, in all American universities and colleges for the conception of a health program. This was done to bring before the women students the importance of health standards and to make them more observant of each menu, of hours of sleep, and of posture.

Poster, menu, and posture contests were held, giving each sorority, unaffiliated group and campus organization an opportunity to win one of the three loving cups awarded. The climax of the week occurred at the entertainment and dance at which the silver cups were awarded at Scripps Cottage, November 20.

Alice Dellman, representative of Alpha Sigma Alpha, was awarded the trophy for the most perfect posture. Honorable mention went to Harriett Merrick and Helen Rhodes. Phi Sigma Nu Sorority won both cups for the most perfect menu and for the most attractive poster stressing health standards. Mrs. Josephine Bell Trask was given mention for second best menu, while the posters of the Art Guild and Theta Chi were second and third respectively.

W. A. A. COACHES

INSTRUCTORS for State College women's athletics were chosen with the thought in mind of securing the very best and most proficient obtainable in San Diego.

Miss Jessie Rand Tanner, General Director of the Women's Physical Education Activity Department and the Women's Athletic Association, is in charge of the five sports at the college. Under her direction is Miss Alice Raw, Assistant Director of Physical Education and a W. A. A. sponsor.

Mr. Albert L. Seelig has been rowing coach at the college for the past eight years. His efforts to develop good oarswomen as well as to promote a healthful activity have established his coaching success.

The services of Mrs. Lyda Maupin, of the Dixie Riding Academy, were secured as she is an outstanding horsewoman herself and is an excellent instructor of women's riding.

The Y. W. C. A. swimming supervisor, Miss Florence Shafer was secured to instruct the swimming groups at the 'Y' plunge.

Miss Helen Carr, a senior of the Aztec institution, and a physical education major, was class manager and instructor of the tennis groups last fall.

Although Mr. Ted Woolley will not be able to continue his classes in golf next year, his first year of instruction has added a great deal to the athletic program of the college.

An Aztec Rowing Crew on the Bay

R O W I N G

*D*URING the past thirty-four years rowing has proven itself one of the most popular sports for State College women despite the fact that it has not depended entirely upon competition for its success.

The joys of comradeship, of crew skill, and of hours on the waters of the "Harbor of the Sun" have been sufficient incentives. Several present day sororities were originally organized by groups of girls in rowing clubs.

Commodore Jessie Rand Tanner and Coach Albert L. Seelig have instructed crews in the fine points of rowing as applied to an eight-oared barge. Each afternoon one crew meets at the Santa Fe Wharf and rows for one hour.

A great deal of competitive spirit is shown towards the end of the year when the five crews train for the regatta. Judges are chosen by Miss Tanner and Coach Seelig, and they award the most outstanding group.

Beginners' classes meet twice a week and learn the elementary strokes, such as the crawl, backstroke, side stroke, breast stroke, tandem, single over arm, and trudgeon. Some diving instruction is also given, but is more concentrated upon in the advanced classes. The latter group spends most of the time preparing for the standard life saving test which is given at the end of each semester and is a requirement of all physical education majors. Last semester thirteen girls received American Red Cross Senior Life Saving Certificates.

GOLF has been one of the most popular sports enjoyed by the women students during the past year. A large class of girls consisting of beginners and intermediates received instruction in the fundamentals, such as etiquette of the game and the various strokes. All practice sessions were held on Wednesday afternoons under the supervision of Ted Woolley, instructor, and Miss Jessie Rand Tanner, at the Causeway Pitch and Putt Course.

During the first part of each semester the greatest amount of time was spent in developing a natural full swing. When this was accomplished, instruction in the use of the various clubs was given. Driving, mashie and midiron shots, and putting were practiced until good form was developed.

When ability in the fundamental principles was acquired, the women received advanced instruction. Difficulties with the different clubs were overcome during the practice rounds in this class. With a year's practice behind them many of the girls have displayed unusual golf skill.

HISTORIC and picturesque Old Town provides splendid bridle paths for the beginners and advanced riding classes which are ending their second year in a college sport. Mrs. Maupin of the Dixie Academy has been instructing groups for the past year in English and Western styles of riding and intends to hold a gymkhana next semester in which all the previous classes may compete. Miss Alice Raw is faculty adviser for this sport.

Afternoon canters have been enjoyed on the winding bridle path through Old Town, Presidio Hills, Point Loma Flats, and up Mission Valley on the "oldest road in California." Towards the end of the semester a series of moon light rides were enjoyed, as well as a treasure hunt.

Many pleasant hours have been spent in the academy arena where Mrs. Maupin has instructed the classes in "all the games that can be played while walking." Balloon polo, potato games, ball and basket, and musical chairs provided class entertainment, while the working sessions were spent in drill work, formation riding, and dress parade practice.

SPORT HOP

*A*S an annual affair and a courtesy to freshmen women, the W. A. A. entertained this year with the traditional Sport Hop in Scripps Cottage on March 2. A clever program written and directed by Clara Kelleher was given during the afternoon, in which a new idea for college women was presented.

Mrs. Edith Tate Thompson, Head of the State Tuberculosis Bureau, was responsible for the idea, which was in the form of a brightly colored canvas bag in which to carry books. Many bags were sold following the dance and during the semester. The money received will be used to purchase furniture for the lounge in the women's gymnasium which will be under construction by fall.

The program was featured by a song and dance number presented by Helen Carr, Virginia Christie, Margaret Greenlund, Bernice Kelleher, Clara Kelleher, Helen Magee, Beth Porter, and Helen Rhodes, and a duet by Rena Case and Alta Robbins. Music for the dancing was furnished by Shirley Winn's three piece orchestra. The serving of refreshments completed the event.

OUR SPORT SEASON

*W*ITHOUT doubt the Aztec varsity athletic teams of 1931 and '32 enjoyed the most successful season of any of their predecessors. The most important fact, however, is the prospect of still better teams next year.

The Aztec football machine was one of the most feared in the conference. The Aztecs had the knack of winning a game when victory was least expected. Although losing the championship game with Caltech, State finished its conference schedule with a respectable fourth place. A December football game with Fresno State College was won against great odds.

With Coach Morris Gross at the helm, the San Diego State basketball team waded through its conference schedule with but one game lost. The Gross-men replaced Redlands who won the crown last year.

Having one of the finest track and field layouts in Southern California, State was handicapped by the lack of a veteran track and field team. Coach C. E. Peterson was not dismayed, but developed several performers who became outstanding in their events. George Mosolf, javelin thrower; Harry Jones and Mike Dillon, sprinters; Chuck Keeney, high jumper; Bob Leonard, weight man; and Captain Lawrence Peterson, half-miler, were counted on to win.

The Aztec baseball team, coached by Morris Gross, was the best ever to represent State College. Competing free lance, the varsity bowled over all opposition. Competition for positions on the team was keen, and Gross had a difficult time picking a first string.

AFTER graduating from San Diego State, Morris Gross turned his efforts towards furthering Aztec athletics. In 1929-30 his basketball team took fourth place, in 1930-31 third, and in 1931-32 they won the conference championship. Gross also handles varsity baseball.

FOOTBALL SEASON

GREETED with a turnout of 45 players, Coach Herreid developed one of the best football squads ever to represent State College. Herreid's determination to win is one of the greatest assests the college possesses.

Because of victories over the University of Arizona, Whittier, and Fresno State, all out of town games, the Aztecs became known as a splendid traveling team.

In nine games the team piled up 71 points to its opponents 51, an average of 8 points per game for the Aztecs and 5.7 for their rivals.

The men who were awarded positions on the mythical All-conference eleven were George Mosolf, sophomore, Gordon Cox, senior, and Captain Elden Dilley, senior. Together with Glenn Warren, junior, these men were given berths on 'Pop' Warner's All-coast football teams.

An incident which the players and coaches alike will not soon forget was the three-day airplane trip to Fresno. Graduate Manager Al Morrison and others cooperated to make this trip a rousing success.

Lettermen are: center, Warren; guards, Jessop, Cornell, Kelly, and Driscoll; tackles, Cox, Carr, and Schraeder; ends, Mosolf, Shreve, Brown, and McMichael; quarterbacks, Yamamoto and Clark; halfbacks, Bailey, Jones, Dillon, and Grant; and fullbacks, Walker and Captain Dilley. Seventeen of these men will be eligible for the varsity next year.

Players who did not make their letters but remained on the squad throughout the season are Jim Foster, Bob Leonard, Roy Noon, Stan Scofield, Robert Sullivan, Lawrence Head, Norman Knowles, Clair Powell and Jim Derrick.

*B*EFORE a large assemblage of enthusiastic fans, the 1931 Aztec football team in its initial encounter tied the Alumni All-stars Saturday night September 19, at Navy Field. Neither team scored, although the varsity with just four days of practice had a decided edge in the ground gained.

During the contest, off tackle bucks were the most successful of the few plays which Coach Walter Herreid had given his players. Many weaknesses as well as strong points were exposed. The gridmen needed improvement in running interference and the Aztec backs did not show any continued offense against the former college stars. The line, averaging 180 pounds per man, functioned especially well on the defense.

A galaxy of past gridiron heroes comprised the Alumni eleven, including Kenny Johnson, one of the fleetest backs ever to grace an Aztec uniform. Dean C. E. Peterson, former varsity mentor, coached the graduates.

Mayor Walter W. Austin officially opened the grid season by giving a short welcoming talk to the fans and players.

ARIZONA

STATE'S initial collegiate game of the season was played in the Tucson Bowl, Friday night, September 25. The game marked the first defeat for the University of Arizona Wildcats on their home grounds. The Aztecs scored a touchdown and a safety, winning the game 8-0.

In spite of intense heat the Aztecs played a fine game, completing three passes for an average of twelve yards and greatly outnumbering their opponents in first downs. Arizona failed to penetrate Aztec territory farther than the 35-yard line.

The game uncovered two potential stars in the persons of Harry Jones and Bill Bailey. Jones intercepted three passes while Bill ran the ends for several long gains and earned the reputation of being the hardest hitting blocker on the squad. Bob Brown performed well in this, his first game at the wing position. A future All-conference end, George Mosolf, began his varsity grid career in brilliant fashion by constantly outsmarting his adversary.

CAL CHRISTIAN

THE third twilight game of the State College Varsity disclosed a great improvement in its offensive attack against California Christian College on the second of October. The Navy Field scoreboard showed a 28-0 victory. San Diego chalked up sixteen first downs against none for the Panthers.

A long pass from Captain Dilley to Mosolf paved the way for the first touchdown. Again, soon after the start of the second half, State marched steadily down the field for the second tally. A pass from Pete Walker to Bailey raised the score to twenty-one points. The final triumph of the game came when Jones, playing college football for the first time, made a 50-yard run for a touchdown.

The Panther forward wall made determined stands at times, forcing State to resort to passes. The Cal-Christian backfield appeared strong, but it could not hold the ball long enough to score. Outweighing the visitors, the Aztec linemen merely lay on top of the Panthers when they became too stubborn. Coach Herreid employed every available man in the conflict.

*A*S revenge against State for last season's grid defeat, the Occidental College eleven won this year's game, played October 9 in the Pasadena Rose Bowl. Oxy scored 13 against State's two points.

The Aztec's single score was made when Gordon Cox, tackle, caught Collier of Oxy behind his own goal line and scored a safety. In the second quarter the Bengals staged a bewildering aerial attack and gained a touchdown by means of a final short pass.

In the second half "Tuffy" Reed, Tiger back, broke off left tackle and ran 72 yards to score. State took to the air unsuccessfully as a last resort.

Because of injuries to first-string men, State College was seriously handicapped. Pete Walker, big full-back, could not play because of a leg injury, and both George Mosolf and Ed Thompson were forced to leave early in the game.

More Aztec than Occidental students attended the game. Between halves the Oxy band staged a splendid torchlight parade.

REDLANDS

RUINING San Diego State's championship aspirations, the University of Redlands held a fighting Aztec football team to a standstill October 16 in a Navy Field game. Although the initial half was all Redlands, they failed to score until late in the fourth. Red Clark placed the Aztecs in the lead in the third quarter when he ran around right tackle on a reverse for a touchdown.

Neither team converted the extra point and the tilt terminated in an unsatisfactory 6-6 tie. The lighter Aviators lived up to their reputation as the most feared passing eleven in the conference. The Bulldogs displayed a new offensive attack with a tricky shift combined with a good passing attack.

After the half, Clark skirted the ends for short gains until the ball was placed on Redlands' 24 yard line. From there he broke through the Grey Shirt's defense. His attempt for point after touchdown failed. Cough's men opened the fourth with a rush. After a flurry of passes the Bulldogs finally scored in three plays from the Aztec 4 yard stripe.

*P*LAYING their best game of the year, an unbeatable Aztec team completely outplayed and outfought the Whittier College eleven in a game which compelled the fans to rise continually to their feet. The tilt was played Friday evening October 23 at Whittier Stadium.

Although only one touchdown was made, a 7-0 victory, both teams threatened to score others. The Aztecs held off a Quaker thrust in the opening quarter and then proceeded to tally. Taking the ball on the Poet 20-yard line, Captain Dilly made four successive plunges to advance San Diego to the 4-yard stripe, He scored on his next attempt.

Coach Herreid's men nearly scored again in the third quarter when they profited by an exchange of punts. Dilley's pass to Mosolf fell just short over the goal line. Later by intercepting a pass Jones halted a final Quaker thrust.

George Mosolf, who had been laid up with a shoulder injury, came back and played one of the best games of his career. Besides catching passes sitting down, "Mose" smeared Whittier backs for severe losses.

POMONA

HELD scoreless for three quarters against the weaker Pomona College eleven on October 30, San Diego State finally crossed the Sagehen goal line when Dilley trotted the necessary 23 yards for a touchdown. The 6-0 score was identical with last year's Aztec triumph.

Pomona held the advantage at the half, but the final two chapters told a different story. State threatened to score twice in the third period, but on each occasion was halted by penalties. Herreid's players nearly added a second touchdown when Hal Grant, speedy back, intercepted a Pomona pass and raced to the 4-yard line before being tackled. Just at that moment the final gun barked.

Late in the second session the Staters unleashed an aerial attack. They completed 9 out of 16 tosses while the Ghosts were unsuccessful in all of their attempts to gain by the air route. The Aztecs made 8 first downs, twice the number of the northerners.

Captain Berry, Pomona left guard, was the whole show for the visitors. Time after time in the first half he broke through and set the Aztecs back for losses.

*A*S the feature event of the city's Armistice Day celebrations, the strong local Marine Corps Base eleven triumphed 13-0, their first victory in five games over the Aztecs. As far as yardage from scrimmage and defensive work was concerned, the Marines outplayed the collegians.

The first fifteen minutes of play was in State's territory. Then as the result of Dilley's passes to Dillon and Powell, the Aztec machine rode to the 31-yard line where it was stopped. A punt gave the Aztecs another set of downs, but again the Marines prevented a tally. In four plays the Sea Soldiers traversed the field to score.

After the half the Devil Dogs pounded their way to the one foot mark. From there State started its big drive and passed to the enemy's 15-yard line where Poppleman intercepted a pass and ran deep into Aztec territory. A few plays later, the service eleven hung up the final touchdown.

Due to its passing attack, State College was often dangerous. Out of 26 aerial attempts, 14 were good.

ON THANKSGIVING DAY the California Institute of Technology eleven won the conference crown for the second consecutive year by defeating State College by two touchdowns. The Aztecs lost their chance to finish in a tie for second place.

After checking Aztec drives in the first half of play, the Engineers came back strong in the remaining periods. State had numerous chances to score, but lacked power when in a scoring position. Mosolf, stellar end for the local team, placed the Aztecs in a scoring position in the first quarter, but the touchdown plays were stopped short by the visitors.

Both of the Engineer's scores were made by Watson. In the second period Mendenhall intercepted Diley's pass in midfield. From this point the Engineers made consistent gains and Watson finally carried the ball over from the one yard line to score. The final score was made when Watson found a hole in State's left flank and tore 18 yards to pay dirt.

The tilt marked the last conference game for Captain Elden Diley, Arthur Kelly and Gordon Cox.

FRESNO

THE city of Fresno was invaded in three ten-passenger air transports, as State climaxed its football season with a brilliant 15-0 December victory over the tough Fresno State College Bulldogs. The 650-mile trip marked the first time that an Aztec team had traveled by air.

From start to finish the Aztec eleven outplayed and outfought the Bulldogs. No score was made, however, until late in the first half when Gordon Cox blocked a punt behind the Fresno goal posts to tally a safety. Coach Herreid's charges scored both of their touchdowns by waging a fourth quarter drive which started in the last six minutes of play.

Dilly concluded his college football career in an admirable fashion. Besides scoring twelve points, he placed boots with uncanny ability by kicking out of bounds on Fresno's one or two yard line. The other outstanding features of the game were Driscoll's interception of passes, Gordon Cox's fine line play, and Harry Jones' skirting end runs. De Chaine, Bulldog halfback, was Fresno's best player.

WITH a championship to defend, State College looks eagerly forward to the 1933 conference basketball season.

Of the nine lettermen, eight will return next year, Captain Bob Tucker being ineligible for further competition. He was given a berth on the mythical All-conference team. Terry Miles, Bob Brown, and Al O'Day are juniors, while Art Linkletter, Don Clarkson, Lefty Hunt, Walter Bostrom, and Ashley Joerndt are sophomores.

Captain Tucker, center, heads the list of Aztec scorers in the six conference games with 84 digits, an average of 14 points for each contest. Miles was second with 58, Linkletter next with 32, and Clarkson made 10. The team total was 195 points, compared to 174 for the opposing quintets.

Morris Gross was the coach of the squad, while Glenn Palmer served as the manager.

HOLDING a scant lead almost throughout the entire contest, San Diego State College's varsity basketball team opened its schedule by nosing out Whittier 37-33 in a fast Southern California Conference game. The game was played at the local high school gym on January 9.

Arthur Linkletter, Terry Miles, forwards, and Captain Bob Tucker, center, did all of San Diego's scoring. Linkletter was the State mainstay in the initial half, being largely responsible for his team's holding its narrow lead. In the final session Miles and Tucker scored consistently.

CAL CHRISTIAN

TAKING the lead shortly after the second half got under way, the Aztec quintet defeated Cal Christian College 41-36, in a non-conference game staged January 16 at the local high school gym. The contest was the last home game of the season.

The Panthers held a 15-13 advantage at the intermission, but with Tucker and Miles setting the pace, the Aztecs regained the lead in the final session. The two teams were deadlocked on several occasions later in the contest.

The contest was close from the start and at the half, State only holding a two point advantage. San Diego consistently outplayed the Leopards as far as the floor games of the two teams were concerned. A large percentage of their shots, however, either spiraled around the edge of the hoop or ricocheted off the backboard.

The following week Keeney and Leonard won places in the open events of the second annual S. C. C. relays held at Occidental. In the Pre-Olympic A. A. Bob Leonard set a new All-conference shot put record with a toss of 46:08. He also won third in the discus. George Mosolf, javelin thrower, and Harry Jones, quarter miler, were State's other winners at the big meet. Keeney tied for third in the high jump while Dillon took fourth in the 440. A foot injury kept Captain Peterson from competing. Oxy easily won the meet with 61.2 points, Pomona was second, Redlands third, and State fourth with 18 3-5.

Twelve men were awarded letters. They are Harry Jones with 41 3-4 points, Bob Leonard 39, Chuck Keeney 23, Captain Lawrence Peterson 21 3-4, and George Mosolf 20. Gordon Cox, Mike Dillon, Lawrence Head, Don Wolfer, Herb Tucker, Dail Pyle, and Dave Jessop completes the list.

*A*NOTHER highlight of the major sport season just completed was the excellent record turned in by the baseball squad. Although deprived of collegiate competition through no fault of its own the Aztec nine won nearly all its games with numerous city teams.

The most noticeable improvement over last year's nine was the team's hitting ability. Coach Morris Gross put a great deal of attention to the batting strength of the club, with the result that the Staters turned many a game into a rout with an avalanche of runs. The pitching staff, composed of Luscomb, Kindy, Warren, and Hunt, contributed the hurling skill necessary to a strong team.

In two games with the S. D. Marine Corps Base team, the Aztecs dropped the first which lasted ten innings by the margin of one run, and won the second, 17-2. Becker's All-Stars tied one contest and lost two others to the Aztecs. Three victories were gained at the expense of the Neighborhood House dia-

CROSS COUNTRY

CROSS-COUNTRY running began auspiciously with 23 men turning out for the sport. The varsity and frosh teams competed in three big meets and numerous practice runs.

Following the inter-class meet the varsity and freshman teams won the annual La Mesa-El Cajon marathon. Captain Lawrence Head and Don Wolfer took first and second place in the open race while Hill and Fournier finished one-two in the frosh run.

The season was climaxed on December 5 with the All-conference run held at Pomona. The varsity team composed of Varney, Head, Boldrick, and Wells finished third in the final ratings. Varney, seventh place winner, was the first State man to finish the 4 mile grind. A powerful Redlands squad easily took first place with Caltech in the runner-up position. The freshman race resulted in a tie between San Diego and Caltech. Howard Traweck won the 3 mile race in 17:32 and Fournier of State placed second to his teammate.

The officers of the Harriers, an organization which fosters cross-country running, are John Andrews, president, and James Savage, secretary-treasurer. The club made several interesting trips and hikes.

TENNIS

THE past season has been one of the most successful in the history of State's tennis teams. Coached by Leslie Wilbanks and Captain Ben Hayward, the court men placed high in the Southern California conference.

In the first match of the year, the Destroyer Base team was defeated 6-2. Whittier College defaulted its game, and the following week the squad beat Caltech 5-4 on the Pasadena courts by winning three singles matches and breaking even in the two doubles. After losing to the championship Occidental squad on April 16, State turned in victories over Pomona and Redlands.

Hugh McArthur and Captain Hayward were sent to compete in the Ojai Valley Tennis Tournament where they lost the doubles after a terrific struggle in the semi-finals to the U. C. L. A. team.

As a first rate tennis player, McArthur ranks in a class by himself. His game throughout the year was one of steady and relentless hammering. Captain Hayward, No. 2 man, was the other brilliant racket wielder on the Aztec squad. Both are sophomores.

Ned Anthony held down No. 3 position, Ralph Hargraves No. 4, Maurice Hoke No. 5, and Charles Wattawa No. 6. All are members of the junior class. Hal Hanson, James Phelan, and David Marrs completed the net squad. Julius Rainwater managed the teams.

Aztec Wrestling Squad

WRESTLING

WITH bright prospects for next fall, wrestling hopes run high following the completion of the past mat season under the direction of student coach George Cornell. The Aztec matmen passed a fairly successful season, engaging in contests with several local teams.

A meet with the San Diego Y. M. C. A. was lost by one point. In the county A. A. U. wrestling tournament, State won third place by virtue of Ed Lynch's victory in the 125 pound class and Dick Cornell's win in the heavyweight ranks.

SWIMMING

THE Aztec swimming team, although handicapped by the lack of adequate swimming facilities, encountered sufficient opposition to insure a successful season. Coached by Walter Herreid, the varsity and freshman teams, third place winners last year, culminated their present season with the Varsity winning second honors and the Frosh tying for first at the All-conference swimming carnival held on May 14 at Occidental College.

GOLF

SAN Diego was represented on the links this spring with a squad of veteran golfers. In practice matches the Aztecs defeated the Causeway team twice by scores of 10-9 and 14-4. State was host to other members of the circuit on May 20 and 21 when the second annual All-conference golf tournament was played at the La Mesa Country Club. The Aztecs made an excellent showing in the tourney.

To Charlie Dietrick, instructor, should go much credit for his untiring efforts in arousing enthusiasm for the sport. Through his aid the Aztec Golf Club was organized. Officers of the club are Gordon Cox, president, and Paul Flack, secretary.

Other prominent members are Harvey and Ed Franklin, Ralph Hargraves, Frank Guthrie, Sam Merrick, Tom and Ed McKnight, John Heater, Dick Worthington, Charles Lee, and Fletcher Carr.

F E N C I N G

*T*HE agile art of fencing has been revived at San Diego State College. Since last September a group of would Be D'Artagnans have been practicing under the expert tutelage of Mr. Robert Manzeck. Since fencing requires a long time to master, the team will not be ready for intercollegiate competition until next fall or early in 1933. Practice matches with local squads are held regularly.

The Aztec Fencing Club was organized to promote the sport. Its officers are: Robert Goebel, president; Carl Schreffer, vice president; and Bob Hoover, secretary and treasurer.

Coach Manzeck, who is also the custodian of athletic equipment, is a well known gymnastic instructor. Captain Owen King leads the squad. Other promising fencers are: Lyman Ballinger, Henry Albrechts, Walter Dunn, Edward Messner, Gerald Jackson, Joe Napier, Bill Swartz, and Neal Moquin.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

INITIALY handicapped because a large part of the entering freshmen were provisional students, Coach Gross turned out an eleven which won six of its seven games, losing only to the powerful Occidental team after having played five games without being scored on.

After two weeks' practice, the freshmen beat the La Jolla High School varsity 32-0, following this with a 13-0 victory over Hoover High the next week. In this latter game the line appeared weak and prospects looked dull. However a brilliant come-back netted a 32-0 triumph over the Army and Navy Academy in the last game before the opening of the conference season.

Continuing their performance as an unscored-on team, the freshmen beat Pomona 21-0 on Navy Field in a preliminary to the West Coast Navy-St. Mary's freshmen game.

Crippled by injuries to Bates, Austin, and Webb in the first quarter, the Aztecs met their only defeat at the hands of Occidental on the northern field. Despite the score, State made two-thirds of the first downs and showed the stronger offensive playing.

La Verne was able to hold the weakened Aztecs to a 6-6 tie in the last game of the season.

Numerals were awarded to Arnett, Austin, Bates, Crow, Dawson, Evans, Fournier, Green, Howe, Joerndt, Limon, Murphy, Penick, Rivette, Roberts, Traweek, and Webb.

Papoose Football Squad

FRESHMAN TENNIS

THE Papoose tennis team, under the leadership of Howard Whitney, Frosh ace, succeeded in winning nearly all of its matches with various high schools in the county. The squad also handed the Army and Navy Academy Junior College a 4-3 defeat.

Whitney won both the State College Novice Tournament and the Freshman Net Tourney. Art Savage was runner-up in the former, while Neal Moquin copped second place in the latter. Whitney is first man on the team, Moquin second, Savage third, Bob Hoover fourth, and Homer Jorgenson fifth.

With several prominent players coming up from the Freshman class, State looks forward to a big year in varsity circles.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

THOUGH losing their two conference games, Coach Charlie Smith's Freshman basketball team concluded its season with eleven victories in as many games over local and Imperial Valley quintets.

In their first conference game with Whittier the Aztec Babes lost 43-34. The next week Brawley Junior College was handed a 29-28 defeat which was followed by a 26-14 triumph over Coronado High.

A two-game schedule with Imperial Valley junior colleges resulted in a 30-8 win from Brawley and a close 29-26 victory over El Centro. In a return game El Centro was beaten handily 55-17.

In practice games the Frosh defeated Grossmont High, St. Augustine High, The Evening Tribune, and Naval Air Station. The final conference game was won by the Redlands University first-year men who nosed out the Aztecs 29-22.

Numerals were awarded to Ralph Burbridge, James Fournier, Joe Hinds, Morris Murphy, Arlen Powell, Henry Rogers, Art Savage, Charles Wilson, and Manager Howard Turrentine.

Conference Champions

FRESHMAN TRACK

*A*LL-SOUTHERN conference champions—that is the record handed down by the freshman squad of '32. The triumph was a fitting climax to five dual meet victories. In the S. C. C. relays the freshman team, composed of Keller, Rand, Hill, and Traweck, set a new record of 3:49 in winning the Frosh medley relay. In the open events Rand tied for first in the pole vault.

Meeting in their annual engagement, the Papooses defeated a San Diego High squad 63 to 50. Dawson of State turned in an outstanding effort when he won the broad jump at 21.08. Rand gathered 9 1-3 points, Crow 8, Hill 6 1-4, and Traweck 6.

Three days later the Frosh won 10 first places in swamping the combined Sweetwater, Point Loma, and La Jolla high school squads 91 1-2 to 44 1-2. Among the best efforts were those of Wilson and Bates, hurdlers, and Larson, high jumper.

The contest with Herbert Hoover High ended in a 63 1-2 to 49 1-2 victory for the Herreidmen. The freshmen swept the hurdles and broad jump, and took first and second in the 440 and mile. The Cardinals showed strength in the sprints.

A select band of Imperial Valley athletes representing the Mt. Signal Athletic club gave the Aztecs a close battle before finally bowing 66 1-6 to 53 5-6. Gillette of El Centro won the 100, 220, and 440 in sensational time. Dawson, Rand, and Hill, freshmen, turned in creditable performances.

Headed by the all-around performance of Rand, who took three firsts, a second, and a third, San Diego submerged El Centro J. C. under a 97 to 24 defeat. Crow and Traweek each captured two first spots.

In winning the All-conference meet, the Frosh piled up 56 1-2 points to 37 1-2 for Caltech and 29 for La Verne. Larson cleared 6:00.6 in the high jump while Rand vaulted 12:03.2 to establish new meet records. Other Papoose winners were Crow who tossed the shot 38:06; Dawson with a broad jump of 21:06.2; and Bates, javelin tosser, with a heave of 165:10. First three places in the high and broad jumps served to give State its victory.

Heading the list of numeralmen are Captain Jack Rand who made 59 1-2 points in seven meets, Pat Hill with 37 1-4, Lawrence Crow 34, Bill Larson 34, Howard Traweek 33, and Aubra Bates 32 1-4. Other numeralmen are: Dudley Boyer, Bob Dahlgren, Jack Dawson, Frank Evans, Morie Harper, Allan Keller, Dick Marten, Oliver Mayes, Tom McKnight, Don Pearse, Bob Pollard, Don Ryan, Gordon Wiggins, Charles Wilson, and Manager Marvin Herrmann.

FRESHMAN BASEBALL

*A*LTHOUGH its record was not equal to that of the 1931 squad, the Aztec freshman nine, directed by Student Coach James McCarthy, made a very creditable showing in contests with local high school teams.

After an early season setback by the strong Marine Base team, the Papooses engaged Herbert Hoover High in a three game series. A costly error on the part of the Staters in the final game gave Hoover the game and the series, two games to one. An 11-8 win over Point Loma High was followed by a 3-0 victory over Grossmont High. Featured by a pitchers' duel, the squad lost a close 3-1 decision to San Diego High on April 7.

Freshmen who will be eligible to play on the varsity nine next season are Bill Larson, catcher; Athos Sada, Ray Kroepel, and George Nagle, pitchers; Morris Murphy, Ted Wilson, Charles Warfield, and Glenn Garbani, infielders; and Charles Lee, Gene Predmore, and Joe Hinds, outfielders. Roy Bachman managed the team.

INTRA MURAL ACTIVITIES

THE Freshman class, due to the ability of its athletes, won the extensive inter-class sport program with the Sophomores as runners-up. In most of the thirteen sports, lower division classmen took major honors.

Cross-country opened the season for the classes. Lawrence Head, junior, won the contest and the honor of having his name engraved on the Jessop Trophy. The Freshmen, however, won the meet with the Sophs taking second. Hill, Wiggins, and Powell were the Frosh medal earners.

Inter-class basketball was won by the Frosh who defeated the Juniors, second place team, 33-26. The members of the winning squad who received medals were Rogers, Powell, Wilson, Joerndt, Hinds, Herrick, and Bostrom. All games were played in the high school gymnasium under the supervision of Coach Gross.

Wrestling was the next sport won by the enterprising Frosh. Four of the eight medal winners were first year men. The victors: Pearse, freshman, at 118 pounds; Lynch, sophomore, at 125 pounds; Tompkins, sophomore, at 135 pounds; Fulkerson, junior, at 145 pounds; Evans, freshman, at 155 pounds; Wilson, freshman, at 165 pounds; Butcher, junior, at 175 pounds; and Fuller, freshman, heavy weight.

The Sophomores turned the tables on the peagreens when they defeated them for the touch football championship. A last minute recovery of a fumble gave the Sophs a close 8-6 victory. The sport was one of the most popular on the schedule. Members of the winning squad follow: D. Fox, Atherton, Tompkins, Stein, France, Gonzales, and Torres.

By the margin of one-tenth of a second, the Frosh nosed out the Sophs for first place in the annual Irish Marathon race held on January 21. The contest was featured by Jones, sophomore, and Hill, freshman, who waged a brilliant duel on the final lap. The total time for the victors was 9:37.8. Each class team was composed of 10 men who ran one quarter mile each. Medal earners were: Crow, Dahlgren, Fournier, Fox, Herrmann, Hill, Keller, Mayes, Pearse, and Traweek.

The Frosh registered a major upset in copping the inter-class track and field meet. They made 76 1-2 digits, Sophomores accounted for 55 1-2, Juniors 27, and Seniors 20. Ribbons were awarded to winners of first alumni teams.

Winning all three events on the program, Sophomore paddlers easily swam away with first honors in the relay swimming meet held at the Army and Navy pool. Sophs tallied 30 points to the Freshmen's 18. Carney, Linkletter, Tucker, and Hayward composed the winning squad.

In the golf tournament Frosh mashie wielders had everything their own way. Tom and Ed McKnight, and Charles Lee were the freshmen low scorers. Scores were 81, 82, 82, respectively for the 18-hole course.

Inter-class fencing, tennis, horseshoes, volleyball,, and indoor baseball were the final sports on the program.

At the second annual A. M. S. barbecue the following were awarded perpetual trophies: George Mosolf, most valuable athlete, William Lundberg memorial trophy; Elden Dilley, Renwick Thompson football trophy; Bob Tucker, Paul Mott basketball trophy; Lawrence Head, Jessop cross-country trophy; Ashley Joerndt, Linn Platner baseball trophy; Harry Jones, Fox track trophy; George Cornell, Werner Peterson wrestling trophy; Tom McKnight, Charles Dietrick golf trophy; Hugh McArthur, Dolph Meuhleisen tennis trophy; and Dick Carney, Ed Fletcher swimming trophy.

Inter-class Touch Football

INTER-FRATERNITY SPORTS

THIS year's program of inter-fraternity athletic competition proved one of the most successful since its inauguration. Paul Driscoll served as Director of Inter-fraternity athletics. He was assisted by Morris Gross who acted as faculty advisor.

The season opened with a touch football tournament which Epsilon Eta, led by Keith Atherton and Don Pearse, won without suffering a defeat. Eta Omega Delta was runner-up while Tau Delta Chi took third. Each fraternity was allowed seven men to a team. Football took the place of handball which was discontinued because of lack of courts.

Omega Xi emerged as winners of the annual basketball tourney by completing its season undefeated. Although competition was keen, they exhibited flawless teamwork to capture the trophy by defeating the Eta Omega Delta team, second place winners, 16 to 12. The strong Delta Pi Beta quintet, led by Don Finney, completed the schedule by vanquishing Sigma Lambda 34 to 2.

Track was next on the program and the conclusion of two days competition found Kappa Phi Sigma the victors with 58 1-2 points. Omega Xi scored 41 1-2 digits and Epsilon Eta 21. Jack Rand, Kappa Phi Sigma, assumed the role of iron man. He won the pole vault, 220 yard dash, 100 yard dash, and had places in the broad jump, discus, javelin, and high jump.

Volleyball was run off on the courts south of the Field House. Eta Omega Delta was declared the winner after winning seven of its eight games. Tau Delta Chi also possessed a smooth-running squad.

The annual tennis meet was marked by extremely close scores. As the Del Sudoeste goes to press, the Delta Pi Beta squad, composed of Moquin, Hansen, and Scofield, remain undefeated. Eta Omega Delta is in second place.

George Parker single-handed led the Epsilon Etas to victory in the swimming carnival by winning three races and placing second in two others. The carnival was held in the Mission Beach plunge.

Indoor Baseball completed the season for the Greek-lettermen and was characterized by the intense interest which featured all other inter-house competition throughout the past athletic year on the campus.

INTER-FRATERNITY COUNCIL

A NEW spirit of closer friendship has been fostered by the Inter-Fraternity Council during the past year. The consensus of Fraternity opinion upon rushing, athletics and other activities have been more unified than in the past. A great deal of interest was displayed in the annual Inter-Fraternity Sorority Ball which was held at the Mission Beach Ballroom between the fall and spring semesters. Fraternity athletics have played a prominent part in campus life during the year, with interest centered about touch football, volleyball and indoor baseball.

The roster of the Council include the following Fraternities: Delta Pi Beta, Epsilon Eta, Eta Omega Delta, Kappa Phi Sigma, Omega Xi, Phi Lambda Xi, Sigma Lambda, and Tau Delta Chi. Arthur Linkletter served as President of the group during the year. He was assisted by the following officers: Vice-Presidents, Robert Barbour, fall semester and Paul Driscoll, spring semester; Secretaries, Charles Keeney, fall semester and Wallace Ramsey, spring semester; and Treasurer, George Cornell. Paul Driscoll was in charge of all Fraternity Sports.

INTER-SORORITY COUNCIL

*Elzora
Wheeler*

COMPLETING its sixth active year, the Inter-Sorority Council broadened its activities and enterprizes with new ideas and plans. Two goals were in view; working for the mutual advancement of the Council members, and cooperating with the program sponsored by the college.

Outstanding among the accomplishments during the past year was the purchase of a large radio for Scripps Cottage with funds obtained through two Sport benefit dances. The annual Inter-Fraternity Sorority Ball was held at Mission Beach Ballroom

Sororities who are members of the council are: Alpha Phi Delta, Delta Chi Phi, Gamma Phi Zeta, Kappa Theta, Phi Kappa Gamma, Phi Sigma Nu, Sigma Pi Theta, Shen Yo and Tau Zeta Rho. The officers of the Council are: Elzora Wheeler, President; Thelma Padgett, Vice President; Helen Magee, Secretary; Katharine Pendleton, Treasurer; and Polly Olson, W. A. A. Representative.

High School Days are dead and gone
College days are here
Try to act like College men
Or You'll be but a sneer

Although your dimes are rather soft
They must be covered up
But only with a brazen grin
Or we'll get double laugh

Only MEN deserve the fair
Which means that you seniors get the air
Don't think you're going to make a lot
So keep that hair off your upper lip

The letter "S" carved on the ball
Is a shame to seniors all
It's up to you to keep it clean
So Freshmen heed the call

Help build the rally banner higher
To keep your fame intact
In case you think we're kidding
You'll feel the paddle crack

If you want to smoke okay
But only the old fashioned way
Coca cola are the dish for you
What are your values? Black and Blue

PALE GREEN

Swats given to erring men and menial tasks dealt out to offending frosh women were in order at the several Traditions courts held in September under the judgeship of Keith Atherton, sophomore leader. Posters advertising the courts as well as sophomore proclamations to the frosh were the means of publicizing the pest-control activities.

BLACK MOUNTAIN

Refinishing of the letter 'S' on Black Mountain, where green verdure had begun to obscure the college emblem, was carried out by men of the freshman class on October 3. The letter was once again covered with a coating of powdered plaster after brush had been cleared. This was the second expedition to climb the mountain and work on the letter and the first to do re-finishing work.

CHRISTMAS PLAY

SKULL and Dagger presented "The Stranger at Vitemsk," written and directed by Harriette Sargent, on the Christmas program of the combined State College Glee Clubs and orchestra.

Setting and costuming showed the expert touch of Norman Rock. The art work together with a sympathetic interpretation of the mood of the plot by the players, created an atmosphere of dignity and awe which contributed much to the lofty message of the "Stranger."

FOREWORD

Last summer two State College students were chasing an Indian maiden all over Death Valley. When they caught up with her they noticed an Aztec sticker pasted between her shoulder blades.

Without hesitation the students turned in their tracks and commenced burning up the road to Tonopah, the Indian maiden gazing wonderingly after them.

Ah, such is the Spirit of Aztecland! If you know how to look, you will see the mocking grin of the Spirit on every page of our book..

THE INSIDIOUS TRUTH ABOUT THE FACULTIES

What quality does a faculty possess that makes it stand aloof from the rest of mankind, you ask.

Oh, ho, my buddies, that quality is exclusiveness!

Then how, you further inquire, does one attain the necessary exclusiveness to qualify for membership, should one so desire.

Ah, ha, we answer, one must first be admitted to the exalted union of pedagogs before one may attain the professor's chair. And right here lies the kernel of our nut, the point of our jest, if you will but listen.

Many years ago—even before ancient Leipzig or Prague—was founded the oldest labor union known to man or beast. Those who sat at the first meeting were white-haired philosophers, weazened sages, wild-eyed prophets, sullen monks,—all aged buccaneers of learning. They convened for the single purpose of meeting the competition of younger and more nimble wits.

"Our livelihood, our very dignity, is endangered," they cried. "The youngsters to whom we teach alchemy, wizardry, sorcery, devise schemes to better our tricks, invent mysteries which perplex us, teach others at our expense, and then scoff at us.

"Therefore we decree that, before a man may officially instruct he must first be admitted into our society. And before we shall admit him we must first have satisfied ourselves that he has memorized a certain specified amount of dates and data which we shall have taught him."

Thus have the memorizers organized themselves against the non-memorizers, the data-hounds against those who would train us to think. And far down through the stained pages of history we find many records of their terrible activities.

We have learned, for instance, the inside story of why Socrates sought surcease of it all in a goblet of hemlock. A member of the Union threatened to have the Parthenon picketed for holding open shop.

And we have further discovered a secret which the Union has jealously guarded through the ages. It is the story of why millions of Egyptians were made to spend all of their spare time building pyramids. The story is told in an etching which you may find sixty feet up on the fifth pyramid to the right after leaving the Nile:

DESIGNED AND EXECUTED BY MENHOPHOTHOP, A PHARAOH OF THE XXX DYNASTY, BACHELOR OF ARCHITECTURE AND MASTER OF SLAVE DRIVING, SO ORDAINED IN THE YEAR 2586 B. C. AT THE UNIVERSITY OF ISIS.

Our own institution is one of the more dire results of the modern pedagogic guild's activities. No matter how much you know, you must first be initiated into their little fraternity before they will let you teach others. And just have a look at some of the members of that fraternity.

Dean Charlie Peterson, Grand Master of Local num. 896780999, sits behind his highly polished desk and smokes expensive cigars. While Mr. Bowen, who knows ten times more about cats, smokes Chesterfields on a soap box in the basement. And again, Dr. Franklin D. Walker, who wrote a biography of

A pretty sorry plight, all right, all right. We just wrote this to let them know how we students feel about it. No, sir, they haven't pulled the wool over our eyes.

JOB HUNTERS

For four years someone has been kidding these studs into the idea that they will be given jobs as teachers. Just why such a mean trick has been played on them no one knows. Nor cares, except their children, who will soon have to support them.

During the past four years they have grown co-ed conscious, dirty cord conscious, self conscious, until now they are practically unconscious. It would be highly nefarious, however, to accuse them of being money conscious. They have learned well how to do without it.

Really, they don't deserve our pity. They just make the waiting list all the longer when our turn comes. It is the poor, abused City Board of Education who should be pitied. Those meek and kindly souls who practically donate their services in order that teachers may have an ample share of the salary budget—those noble souls, we insist, are the ones who should receive our pity. Lord, how such men can exist is beyond us!

D R A M M E R

Stories come to us from Greece that the tomb of Thespis has been rifled by vandals. The culprits remain at large as we go to press, with no clue as to their identity.

Ah, if the Greek authorities only knew of the dramatic activities on our campus during the past year they could understand that no human hand molested that ancient grave. They would know that the old fellow could abide in peace no longer; that, imbued with an overwhelming restlessness, his spirit broke through the mossy stones that confined it, gave silent vent to its wrath by hissing an oath at collegiate actors, and swore to never rest again until every campus L. T. was buried far beneath the three peaks of Parnassus.

Study the photograph of Cannon and Elliott chasing a butterfly and see how far short it falls of the Platonic affair between Adonis and Aphrodite.

Before he commences to haunt the whole college, however, Thespis should be shown that not all dramatic events take place in the Little Theater. For that reason we print here three pictures of dramatists who are entirely ignorant of the acting stage, but whose deeds have nevertheless been as dramatic as anything from the bloody quill of Euripides.

The first is of Keith Atherton, whose dynamic oratory has chilled the hearts of men and melted those of cold women. Next to Atherton is Tod Carter, whose art in makeup surpasses anything conceived in mask or costume by the Hellenic choruses of Aeschylus. The third member of the trio is "Tiny" Reynolds, whose dramatic record is seldom equaled, even at State. For State is "Tiny's" third college, and this is his fourth year here.

Yes, Thespis should excuse these people, who have a true sense of the dramatic.

S C R I B E S

These students control college publications, such as they are. One or two of them are members of the literati. The rest just litter up the place with the first thing that comes along.

Top left, for instance, is Euple himself, who suspects a lot but can't prove a thing. Second is Green, the real brains behind El Palenque, and Lough, editor. They have in fact, been vastly influential in creative fields, creating everything except a desire to be read.

The platinum blond with the specs and the dynamic chin is Whitaker, the Mussolini of the campus, iron-handed dictator of the Sigma Lambs, feather-brained chancellor of the Student Council, and brass-throated warbler of The Aztec. The college will hear more from this little fellah. Unless the college wants to buy ear-stoppers. We also ran a front view of him so you could notice the breadth of forehead.

Following Whitaker, bottom row, is Ellison, who has insisted on publishing this book in spite of all protests to the contrary. Then comes the poet, Diffin, whose "Goofy Rimes" have given us a new kind of literature. Last is "Tiger" Martin, at the helm of The Aztec last semester, and the real reason why the engineers moved away from The Aztec Shack.

DEL SUDOESTE 1932

SIGNA PHI NOTHING

Never Found

Founded during the Dark Ages in spite of all efforts to the contrary, this organization resulted from a coalition of Eta Omega Delta and Omega Xi, who wished a chance to compete on an equal footing with the Sigma Lambs.

The Omega Xis, it was argued, would guarantee the scholarship standing of the new organization, while the Hods offered a palatial house.

During the relatively short period of its existence, this great brotherhood has developed into the most outstanding organization of its kind to be found anywhere south of Grossmont. It stands out at the most unexpected times, in fact. Usually in the rain.

Each member is pledged to live up to the name of the fraternity, but that is a simple matter for them. Really, all matters are simple where they are concerned. Just look them over if you don't believe us.

These men are all ardent disciples of Schopenhauer when it comes to women. "Only a philosopher can be happy in marriage," they tell us, "and philosophers do not marry."

Who would want to marry a philosopher, anyway?

GONNA KOPPA APPLE

Founded in the Garden of Eden

This powerful sorority just happened, like bullfrogs happen after a rain.

In the first row we have the most talked about women on the campus. In the second row are the women who do most of the talking. All of the rest would like to be talked about, though they can never think of anything to do that would arouse comment. Or they wouldn't mind doing a little talking of their own now and then, if only they had something to say.

One of these women once rebuked a man student for his outspokenness by telling him that he was very rude.

"I know it," retorted the student. "You will find three classes of men polite to you—slaves, men who think much of their manners and nothing of you, and your lovers. I am none of these and therefore give you back your ill manners with interest."

More men like this, we believe, would soon elevate the female tribe to the pedestal which too many poor simps believe they occupy.

Without these people the college would not be very sporty. Not that the college would suffer in such a case, though some of the folk pictured here might.

The first photograph represents a noble gesture on the part of the football team. Being unemployed themselves, they decided to play a charity game with Fresno for the unemployed, then turned right around and charged the supposed beneficiaries one simoleon each for the privilege of seeing them. Not satisfied with the turnout, the team revenged itself by going to the nearest restaurant, ordering ten dollars worth of beefsteak per man, eating the beefsteak, and then forming an unemployment parade of their own on the way to the airport, where they boarded three de luxe air liners and swooped majestically homeward.

The next shows the fencing team in a dashing pose. It all started one day when Coach Her-reid left a copy of THE THREE MUSKETEERS on his desk. Immediately twenty otherwise useful citizens began poking swords at each other to see who would be d'Artagnan. And Manzeck, instead of earning the State's pay by painting helmets, took over the silly job of telling students which hand to hold the foil in.

The other picture is of a group of horses with co-eds on them. The horse would much rather graze in some peaceful pasture. But the order stands, "No co-eds, no oats." After all, this is rather a primitive method of transportation.

THROUGHOUT the centuries success has been the reward of those who believed in the doctrine of Extra Effort. Hannibal crossing the Alps; the march of Alexander the Great; Lincoln studying by firelight; Washington crossing the Delaware; Columbus sailing on; Lindberg flying on—such deeds as these can be translated by two words—Extra Effort.

WE BELIEVE that the patronage which has come to us from the great majority of Southwestern Schools is due to the Extra Effort expended by our personnel in the design and development of their yearbooks. From the office boy to the office manager—the thought of Service is paramount and when Extra Effort is required it is given cheerfully and intelligently. In the factory each man is proud of the work he produces at his bench and no effort is spared to give the best of craftsmanship and quality. As to the salesmen—their constant willingness to render personal service, their keen personal interest in each yearbook served by them is a tribute to their belief in that supreme doctrine of cheerful, willing Extra Effort.

CATS - CATS AND COLLEGE BRED KITTENS

This year has been a particularly eventful one for cats. Whither they have come no one knows, nor where they have gone. Slurring remarks have been made at the expense of the Zoology Department, Mr. John Paul Stone, President Hardy and certain janitors. Where are the cats? The Kittens? Yeh, we would like to know. Where are they.

Early last summer, Pete Aztec came to the campus, meek and slim. Pete was a good chisler. Milk shakes and fish from the ham shack was his meat.

From the position in the center of the photograph, Mr. Mosher, dealer in slightly wet real estate, was able to view the intimacies of Sorority Row. His scathing remarks about college women finally caused the lake to dry up, and since that time he has been employed as arbitor for Theta Chi and the Inter-Sorority Council.

ELECTRICITY IS YOUR Servant LET IT HELP YOU

Electricity brings more than light to your home—relief from toil, amusement, more time to enjoy life, health and heat are some of its other meanings. Use electricity freely to bring you all these things. No-where do you receive more value than for the dollar spent on electricity.

Convenience Outlets wherever they are needed in your home are necessary to bring you the full value of electric service. They cost little and are easily installed without trouble or disorder. Ask your electrical contractor to estimate your needs—we will be happy to cooperate.

AN APPRECIATION

Del Sudoeste is in the students hands at last, after innumerable months of ceaseless effort on the part of many students and other individuals who have assisted in this creation. We express our sincere appreciation to Jack Cannicott, of Commercial Art and Engraving Company, for his inspiration, advice and excellent service; to Sam Babcock, of Weber-McCrea Company and his associates, for their creative efforts in producing our cover; to Wm. B. Neyenesch and Associates of Neyenesch Printers, for their untiring efforts and patience which eased the rigors of production; to Carroll Thomson and Gordon Perry for their good pictures; to Miss Mary Benton, Miss Florence Smith and Mr. Harry Steinmetz of the College Faculty for their inspiring advice on various editorial policies. "Babe" Morrison, our excellent Graduate Manager, has cooperated wonderfully this year with the production of the annual. He has handled many business details with a great deal of interest. And finally, we bow to the students whose wonderful cooperation has inspired us on and then to the staff whose energy has eased the burdens of the editor.

May God's blessing rest upon these people.
