

'Roberta' Thrills Appreciative Audience

By MIKE SULLIVAN

Gaiety and enjoyment is offered theater-goers tonight and tomorrow night at the San Diego State Musical Comedy Guild production of "Roberta."

The all-student production thrilled an audience of 1,000 last Friday and Saturday nights at Hoover High School Auditorium.

The play is directed by Ole Kittleson, senior, president of the Musical Comedy Guild and an SDS musical director for three years. Kittleson's endeavors are reflected in the exceptional performances of the cast.

The two-act musical comedy, featuring the music of Jerome Kern, is the story of a Parisian dressmaker who leaves her fashion salon to her American nephew and a Hungarian princess. The play develops the business partnership into a marital partnership, but not without intermittent love affairs.

The male lead is held by Dan Dierdorff, who plays Roberta's nephew, John Kent, an American college football player. Dierdorff's fine baritone voice adds to the play's worth with his rendition of "Your Devastating."

The feminine lead went to Jeannine Fetterolf, a lovely blue-eyed blonde who plays Stephanie, a Hungarian princess and dress designer for Roberta. Miss Fetterolf's dancing and her soprano voice, which have gained her fame in Star-Light, helps to make the play a success. This singer puts all her power in her performance.

One shortcoming of the play is evident in the small musical part given the title role. Relene Keller, as Roberta, gives the best musical performance of the troupe when she sings "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes." Unfortunately Miss Keller's services were lost in the early part of Act I to make room for the plot. A very untimely move.

Humor is brought to the play through Gary Riggs who plays Lord Henry Delves, and Todd Van Every who plays Huck Haines.

Riggs, as his Lordship, keeps the audience in laughter with his hilarious escapades. A life-long friend of Roberta, Lord Henry guides naive John Kent in his feminine problems. He knows the ropes for he is a bachelor.

Van Every plays the wise-cracking bandleader friend of Kent. His duet with Miss Fetterolf of "I Won't Dance" will be remembered for some time. Van Every announces a Roberta fashion show in the first act with fashions courtesy of Walker-Scott Co.

Music, comedy and sheer daring is injected by curvaceous Shirley Blackwell, a man-hungry Hungarian divorcee. Miss Blackwell displays her fine voice which has gained her prior recognition in SDS operas. The only fault in the performance of this actress, who looks and acts as well as she sings, is that her voice does not carry too far. But what is heard is appreciated.

Martha Cook, who plays the part of Sophie, John's American girl friend, is to be commended for her portrayal of a spoiled, flirtacious girl. Miss Cook shows the best dramatic talent of the cast.

Other supporting roles of note include David Boucher as Ladislav, a Hungarian prince and admirer of Stephanie; Louis Repert as Billie, the manager of Haines' band and friend of Kent, and Barbara Hall as Sophie's mother. Boucher produces one of the best sounding songs of the play when he sings the ballad "The Touch of Your Hand."

Frances Mettlach uses her dancing talent to bring the production its best choreography try in "Yesterday's Ballet" featuring Pat Gray and Johnny Jones.

Music to the play was conducted by Ron McConneha. The music was well-planned and entertaining, although at times it covered up the dialogue.

The major drawbacks in the production are technical. A light curtain is used at times to allow (Continued on page 4)

'HELP, HELP' — "Help me, say, me!" begs Dee Anne Flaming of her father, Edward Seamon while nurse Carol Kriner looks on. The scene takes place in the first act of "The Father" presented at 8:30 tonight and tomorrow by the Studio Theatre Guild in the Little Theatre.

NO. 1 PIN-UP. Sherrai Newkirk, 20 year-old sophomore, is the first Paper Doll this semester. Miss Newkirk, who is a member of Alpha Chi Omega, was Dream Girl of Theta Chi Fraternity last year. Her interests include badminton, swimming and money. The last interest probably explains why she works at a local bank.

Guild's 'The Father' Opens Tonight In Little Theatre

Edward Seamon, Kay DeWall To Star In Strindberg's 'Battle Of the Sexes'

"The Father," a three act drama by August Strindberg, will be presented at 8:30 p.m. tonight and tomorrow in the Little Theatre by the San Diego State Studio Theatre Guild. The play is directed by Frank White and stars Edward Seamon and Kay DeWall.

Written in 1887, "The Father" is a story of the battle between the sexes. Strindberg writes with the theory that the female is not only stronger than the male but also out to destroy him.

STRINDBERG IS RADICAL

Strindberg has had more influence on drama and writing in the United States than Ibsen, according to Dr. William J. Adams, assistant professor of speech arts. "Strindberg is radical and ultra-modern whereas Ibsen is greyer and dull. It is this modernity that makes him so dramatic," Adams said.

"The Father" is Strindberg's best known and most powerful naturalistic work, Adams said. It is the story of a father, a strong military man, his daughter, who is to be sent away from home to be educated, and the mother who reacts violently not only to keep her daughter but also to destroy her husband by casting doubt in his mind.

Director White is a graduate speech arts major. "The Father" will complete the work for his masters degree. White has appeared locally as John Proctor in "The Crucible", Tobias in "Tobias and the Angel" and has directed "The Hero Returns".

SEAMON AS FATHER

Seamon portrays the role of the Father. He is a senior speech arts major and has appeared in the roles of Parris in "The Crucible", Dapper in "The Alchemist", and Maitland in "The Chalk Garden".

The role of the mother is portrayed by Miss DeWall. She is a sophomore speech arts major and has appeared in the Theatre Guild production of "Ring Around the Moon".

The role of the daughter is played by Dee Anne Fleming, a freshman speech arts major. She is a graduate of Point Loma High School where she appeared in "Time Out For Ginger" and had the lead in "The Curious Savage".

OTHERS NAMED

Others in the cast include Dale Muchmore as the Pastor, Ervin Hjelmvik as the Doctor, Carol Kerner as the Nurse, Harris Ros-

Enrollment Hits 7,842 At End Of Four Days

The enrollment for the spring semester reached 7,842 at the end of the four-day registration period, it was announced by President Malcolm A. Love. From February 5 to 7, 6,143 day students registered, and on February 8, 1,699 Campus Evening Program students enrolled.

Regular admission to the college is required for the first time for Campus Evening Program students. This procedure will assure higher standards, Dr. Melvin A. Anderson, dean of admissions and records, said.

Late registration is until February 13, and 500 more are expected to enroll during that period, Anderson said. This is still an approximate 1,000-student decrease from the record 9,295 of last semester. With regular admission required for all students the 2,200 Campus Evening Program students of the fall semester dropped 501 students. "The spring semester is normally less than the fall semester registration," Anderson said. Coinciding with this decrease was an increase of Junior College enrollment in San Diego.

enwald as Nojd and Dave O'Neill as the Orderly.

The production crew includes Bonnie Gould, stage manager; Annette Abdelnour, properties; Dave O'Neill and Sharon Price, make-up; Dave Soper, sound, and Don Parnell, lighting.

The Studio Theatre Guild is considered a workshop for students, and plans to continue presenting plays that normally wouldn't be done by small theatre groups, Adams said.

Council Approves Four Allocations Totalling $2,655

The AS Council approved four allocations totaling $2,654.95 from the AS contingency fund Monday.

The largest amount, $1,700, went to the Lectures and Assemblies Committee. The money was requested by the committee because the income from LAC presentations has been less than what was expected, Graduate Manager Dick Thomas said.

The College Chorus received $800. Finance Commissioner Nancy Kirkhuff recommended this allocation because of an oversight in the earlier College Chorus budget.

The Concert Band was given $100 for a concert in Escondido.

The remaining $54.95 allotted will buy the Associated Students a portable power megaphone.

Miss Kirkhuff said that $3,616.45 is left in the contingency fund after these allocations.

In other business Lower Division Representative Ed Blessing presented his proposed revision of the publicity code to the council for consideration. The council will discuss the revision next week.

AS President Dick Manning said that the office of graduate representative is open to application.

The council also approved the $650 AMS budget.

Author Politi to Speak

Leo Politi, author of children's books A Boat for Peppe, Song of the Swallows, Juanita, and The Mission Bell, will speak at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the CLS Auditorium. The program, sponsored by the Association of Childhood Education, will be open to students, faculty, and the public.

Tracy Stars In LAC's Movie

Today's LAC movie will be "Captains Courageous," to be shown in the HS Auditorium at 2, 4:30, and 8 p.m.

The movie, a film version of Rudyard Kipling's famed tale of an heroic Gloucester fisherman and a millionaire's spoiled son, stars Spencer Tracy and the late Lionel Barrymore.

The movie, which will run approximately two hours, will be free to AS card holders, 25 cents with a faculty card, and 50 cents general admission.

AEC Gives SDS Funds For Nuclear Equipment; Shows High Recognition

San Diego State has received word that the Atomic Energy Commission is granting $43,468 to SDS for the purchase of nuclear instruments, according to President Malcolm A. Love.

Dr. Lester Skolil, chairman of the Physics department, said that the most important aspect of this is the AEC's official recognition of the quality of work done at San Diego State. "We have been recognized as one of the leading science schools in the United States," he said.

SDS Slated For 11 Million In State Budget

Eleven million dollars for San Diego State was provided in the budget Governor Knight submitted to the State Legislature last Monday.

This includes $5,284,500 for capital outlay, down from the previous year's $14,278,338 and $5,707,918 for support items, 12.9 per cent higher than last year's $5,056,451.

The building fund is based on the expectation that the campus will have to be equipped to handle 8,200 regular students by 1960.

The support budget, calling for the addition of 51 more teachers and other employees, is based on a predicted enrollment of 7,300 students next year.

The major construction outlay of $5,227,400 includes $2,592,500 for a new building to provide for 323 engineering students and to house a nuclear reactor.

Other items included are $320,500 for an education building addition for 578 students; $550,000 to equip a science building addition for chemistry and geology; $386,000 to equip a physical science addition for astronomy and physics and $313,000 to build and equip a health center with facilities for 10,000 students.

The director of the San Diego Isotope Research Laboratory, Dr. Robert S. Fadem, said, "This grant indicates recognition of State's superb physics department. Personally, I believe it to be one of the three best college physics departments in the country." He said that we have the largest undergraduate physics program in the United States.

Skolil said, "San Diego State is prepared to meet the demand for more trained people in nuclear technology who can build and operate atomic reactors—our most promising source of new energy."

Skolil listed some of the ways SDS is meeting and plans to meet these demands:

1. Additional personnel in the Physics department to aid the 16 full-time faculty members.

2. Using fissionable materials as recently licensed by the Atomic Energy Commission.

3. Additional equipment to enable more students in nuclear physics and nuclear chemistry laboratories.

During the past year two physicists from General Atomic Division of General Dynamics, serving as part-time faculty, have offered a graduate seminar in nuclear reactor theory and practice, Skolil said.

Interchange At College and 80 To Free Traffic

A traffic interchange permitting freer movement of vehicles at College avenue and U.S. Highway 80 in Alvarado Canyon is under construction slightly east of the present College avenue intersection, according to the state Division of Highways.

The interchange is a final phase of a $5,500,000 project to bring the Mission Valley highway to full freeway standards between Old Town and La Mesa.

Frank Jorgensen, assistant district engineer of the highway office here, said the interchange will be completed early in 1960. He said College avenue is to cross over the freeway.

Other interchanges planned in the project include an interchange at 70th street, $1,200,000; at Fairmount avenue, $1,700,000; at Highway 395, $3,300,000.

Bids will be asked for improvements from 1/2 of a mile east of Taylor street to Cabrillo Freeway, including an interchange immediately east of Presidio Park, $1,400,000; improvements from Cabrillo interchange to west of Fairmount avenue, including interchanges at Ward Road, Texas street and midway between Texas and Highway 395, $4,800,000; interchanges at College avenue and Waring Road, $3,100,000.

Faculty Musicians Make Recital Debut Sunday

The first in a series of three faculty music recitals for the spring semester will be presented at 3:15 p.m. Sunday, in the Music Auditorium according to J. Dayton Smith, chairman of the Music Department.

Faculty members performing will be Norman Rost, assistant professor of music, saxophonist; Christine Springston, associate professor of music, pianist, and John Blythe, assistant professor of music, pianist.

Miss Springston and Mr. Rost will play Second Sonata for Violin and Piano, Andante, Allegro, Adagio, and Allegretto by Handel, and Sonata, Andante, Vivace, and Adagio, Presto by Bernard Herrmann.

Mr. Blythe will play Two Preludes, Op. 23, No. 21, and Opus world with a modern-jazz beat, 24 No. 8 by Chopin, Intermezzo, will appear at 8:15 p.m. at the Opus 118, No. 6 by Brahms, Ron Crawford High School auditorium. Dance by Bartok, Lullum at 56th St. and Meade ave. Terrace Dr. Audiences Du Clair De Lune and L'Isle Joyeuse by Debussy, Saudades Do Brazil, Copocobana, and Gavea by Milhaud, and Toccata by Ravel.

According to Smith, this will be the first faculty recital given at the college in more than three years. He said it is hoped the faculty recital series can become an annual event.

Benny B. Kemp, assistant professor of music, pianist, will perform in March. Mervin S. Smider, associate professor of music, organist, and Cleve K. Genzlinger, assistant professor of music, baritone, will perform in April.

Folk Singers Presentation To Have Modern Beat

The Gateway Singers, who sing folk songs from all over the world, will appear at 8:15 p.m. at the Crawford High School auditorium. The program, sponsored by the Lectures and Assemblies Committee, will be free for students upon presentation of A S cards, $75 for faculty members, and $1.50 for general admission.

"What we try to do is to take the old songs which we feel are part of our heritage and make them more appealing to modern audiences by bringing them up-to-date with modern musical settings and the best of present-day jazz," Jerry Walter, the group's spokesman, music arranger and five-string banjo player, said.

The blend which the singers display is not solely a vocal one. It is a mixture of four talented soloists, with varied backgrounds, fitting together as an harmonious ensemble.

Elmerlee Thomas, the group's contralto, was a laboratory assistant at the University of California at Berkeley, has sung German lieder in concert, and is the mother of two Ernie Sheldon, one of two guitarists, was a professional folk singer for 13 years before joining the group.

Jerry Walter, the group's five-string banjo player, attended the Goodman Theatre of the Art Institute of Chicago, Northwestern University and the American Conservatory of Music. He has been in show business since the age of nine.

Travis Edmonson is the other guitarist in the ensemble. He has been an anthropologist, professional singer, jazz guitarist, aircraft worker, truck driver, commercial display man, song writer and father of four.

The varied repertory of the singers includes Mexican and Israeli dance songs; African rounds, in which the audience participates; songs of the French countryside; calypso songs of timely interest; Negro spirituals and modern satires.

Sports Siesta

With Ignacio Lopez

Coachella Valley's Alex Alexander tells about the time San Diego State and Santa Barbara were involved in a crucial football game back in 1938 or was it '39. The host Gauchos led 20-6 early in the final period and State had possession of the ball on its own 20-yard chalkmark.

The Aztec band and smallish rooting section, heretofore dedicated to the usual average rooting, spontaneously broke into the school's fight song. Not once, in this final quarter, did the madhouse cheering stop until State had accomplished the "almost" impossible.

State drove 80 yards for a TD and added the conversion for a 20-13 game. After the ensuing kick-off, the Aztecs crushed all Gaucho offensive maneuvers. State took a fourth down Santa Barbara punt and immediately marched through the hosts' defenses for another six-pointer.

A missed extra point left State behind, 20-19, as Santa Barbara sought to run out the clock and preserve a victory. State dug in on defense, with its rooters and band reaching a great crescendo, and forced the Gauchos to punt.

State powered its way to the Santa Barbara 20-yard line, and from this spot, with only 20 seconds left in the game, an Aztec player booted a field goal for State's amazing 22-20 triumph.

The Untold Story of Fan Support

That, folks, was a striking example of a constituent part of athletics. Coaches never cease to expound on the virtues of fan and school support. What it means to players as individuals and as a team.

What effect this massive and unrestricted yelling had on the Aztecs' memorable comeback or any other similar displays have had on other athletic teams, we can't begin to classify.

Maybe Jim Sams, Perris athletic director and ex-Panther grid mentor, could give you his impression.

Jim, you see, booted that field goal for San Diego State.

An Ex-Aztec Speaks

Dear Friend:

I just finished this very interesting news item in the Sunday Riverside Press - Enterprise and I thought you would be interested in republishing the same. It was wonderful.

It brought back memories of the many exciting football and basketball game that I had the privilege of attending during the above mentioned period and throughout the past fifteen years.

What has happened to our old Aztec spirit? What has happened to the old alumni backing, never miss a game habit? Has San Diego State become so big that the old days of Milky Pops and other wonderful athletes have been pushed aside for new growing pains and plans?

I sincerely hope that some place in the expansion plans will be a room set aside for trophies and pictures of the athletes who did so much for the city of San Diego. Their athletic prowess brought recognition to San Diego State wherever they visited and wherever they competed.

I sincerely hope that the Alumni will not be disheartened by recent athletic shortcomings because a new generation of sons of former athletes will be coming back. Watch out for the next few years. The Aztecs will again lead the way.

It would be wonderful to have a spring homecoming and get the old pep band out. What a wonderful bunch of spirited State boosters they were. Traveling in their old jalopy they rarely missed a game no matter how far away. Their music was loud, happy and a great stimulant to our teams when they were playing both at home and away.

Being the father of an Aztec student and father-in-law of a graduate, I feel that I am sorry to say that State is really important to me. So let's get the old time spirit going again and try and not forget those who did so much for State on the athletic field.

Sincerely yours,
Vincent "Jack" Graham

No 'Red Book'?

Last semester editors of The Aztec expressed alarm over the standing of the student directory, more popularly known as "The Red Book."

It appeared as though the very necessary publication would be delayed until the start of the Spring Semester. Word now from the responsible organization, Alpha Phi Omega, is that "The Red Book" will not appear this year at all.

Again, The Aztec wonders why.

By BOB BATTENFIELD

Good morning. For those of you who came late, this is page 4 of the Aztec. We call it "our school paper." It's really something of a rag, but it's like home and the hearth and the loving breath of mother on an earlobe in the dark. Like it grips you nice.

This dribble you are reading is "The Scene and the Herd." We capitalized and put that in quotes not because we think it is a gas or important. Nozir. It's for clarity. The reader is an ignorant mole and must be shown; he must have it spread clearly before him like jam on the back of his hand. He must see it, and taste it, and feel it. Clarity is our stanchion and we raise it high as we free the minds of the mass with capitals and quotes. It is really all very lucid and quite definitely a group need . . .

But life goes trampling on. This week we celebrated the birthday of Abraham Lincoln, the 16th President of our Nation and the model of every kid's "you too can be President" kick. But our faith was shattered when we read Sunday that, in reality, A. Lincoln was not a poor boy from a shaggy little log cabin but a little sharp from a 586-acre farm! Makes you almost glad to hear the sadist's line: "And besides that, Mrs. Lincoln, how'd you enjoy the play?" . . .

Speaking of crumbling castles and empty dreams, how hangs your wallet? You know, the Golden State of California made considerable pin money off us (some odd) 7,000 Aztecs registering last week. One of the ten cash lines took in over $21,000, which would make between $200,000 and $250,000 sliding over for fees. And figuring conservatively $25 per student for books, add another $225,000, and, babes, we sunk nearly a half a million in this thing called education . . .

An outstanding stage show comes to the Russ Auditorium Feb. 22 when Johnny Mathis, June Christy, the Cal Tjader Quintet, The Lancers and Claude Gordon and his orchestra swing with the Johnny Mathis show. Tickets at the Palmer Box Office . . .

At the same time, another stage show of outstanding proportions, and our hearts warm, is currently swinging here with Ole Kittleson's "Roberta" having its last two performances tonight and tomorrow night at the Hoover High Auditorium. Tickets at the Bookstore . . .

Looking around . . . A Hungarian couple walking hand in hand through the Quad, chattering excitedly . . . A coed irritably printing her long name on the registration information sheet, and muttering "Why didn't my mom give me a name like Sam or something simple . . ." Psychology class members taking bets on the sex of an unknown prof . . .

The day before the Blue Book Ball, Belle Lynne Luckey, who was sponsored by Lambda Chi Alpha, fell from a horse and suffered abrasions on the right shoulder and left hand. But a long white glove and a coat of Angel Face later, no one could tell the difference . . .

Then there's a junior who is starting his sixth semester on probation . . . and the Mercedes-Benz in the near parking lot with a ticket reading "Help Stamp Out Cadillac."

President Ole Kittleson said that weekend features such Jerome Kern favorites as "Yesterdays," "The Touch of Your Hand," "I Won't Dance," "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes," and "Who."

The show is directed by Kittleson. Production coordinator is Joe Turner. Ron McConnehan is musical director. The rest of the production crew includes Frances Mettlich, choreography; Bill Campbell scenery and stage manager; Honore Clark, props and Carol Steinhafel, rehearsal secretary.

Dan Dierdorff and Jeanine Fitterolf head the cast. Other featured roles are played by Todd Van Every, Martha Cook, Renee Keller, Dave Boucher, Barbara Hall, Gary Riggs, Shirley Blackwell and Louis Repaci.

Letters To The Editor

Letters to the editor should be in The Aztec office, HS135, by noon Wednesday for publication in the Friday issue. All letters are subject to editing, must be signed, and no more than 200 words in length.

We have a critic on campus who called a whole literary magazine "garbage" and "trash" because he did not like one story. Apparently he only read one story for one would hardly call such stories as "Parade" or "Goodbye to a Friend" either "garbage" or "trash." Certainly articles like "Illusion" and "Parade" were imaginative and clever while many of the other stories showed a considerable amount of understanding and perceptiveness. One would hardly call such stories "arty" or "trashy" except in a fit of narrow-minded passion.

If a criticism of a literary magazine is to be offered it should be at least objective and scholarly with fair and constructive suggestions for the artist.

The purpose of a college literary magazine should be to offer a students a chance to write and be criticized fairly. Folio does not pretend to offer "Classics."

The Aztec editor implies that there should be no such training ground for artists on this campus but that a writer's first work should be a masterpiece. I wonder if he ever read any of the early works of the masters?

Possibly he does not read anything but the Aztec.

I was astonished that he had nerve enough to criticize the morality or integrity of anyone's writing after the scandal sheet editions of the Aztec that were printed earlier this semester.

Lorna Armstrong

Editor's Note: The new editor and the new staff agree with you.

When the compulsory AS card was voted in, it was done so mainly on the promise that the total cost would not exceed the former AS fees and that the Annual would be free, as it was in the past.

Since the AS card has become compulsory both of the above promises have been broken with the introduction of the present $5 fee for the Annual.

Many of us who were on campus and voted for the compulsory AS card suddenly feel as though we've been taken. We feel that this violation should be investigated and all the facts should be printed in The Aztec with an explanation.

The spiral upward has to be stopped somewhere and we feel this is the time.

BE IT EVER SO HUMBLE

Today let us apply the hot white light of sustained thinking to the greatest single problem besetting American colleges. I refer, of course, to homesickness.

It is enough to rend the heart, walking along a campus at night and listening to entire dormitories sobbing themselves to sleep. And in the morning when the poor, lorn students rise from their tear-stained pallets and refuse their breakfasts and shamble off to class, their lips trembling, their eyelids gritty, it is enough to turn the bones to aspic.

What can be done to overcome homesickness? Well sir, the obvious solution is for the student to put his home on rollers and bring it to college with him. This, however, presents three serious problems:

1) It is likely to play hob with your wine cellar; many wines, as we all know, will not travel.

2) There is the matter of getting your house through the Holland Tunnel, which has a clearance of only 14 feet, 8 inches. This, of course, is ample for ranch houses, but quite impossible for Cape Cods, Georgians, and Saltboxes, and I, for one, think it would be a flagrant injustice to deny higher education to students from Cape Cod, Georgia, and Saltbox.

3) There is the question of public utilities. Your house—and, of course, all the other houses in your town—has wires leading to the municipal power plant, pipes leading to the municipal water supply and gas main. So you will find when you start rolling your house to college that you are, willy-nilly, dragging all the other houses in town with you. This will result in gross population shifts and will make the Bureau of the Census cross as bears.

No, I'm afraid that taking your house to college is not feasible. The thing to do, then, is to make your campus lodgings as close a replica of your home as possible.

Adorn your quarters with familiar objects, things that will constantly remind you of home. Your brother Sam, for instance. Or your citizenship papers. Or a carton of Marlboros.

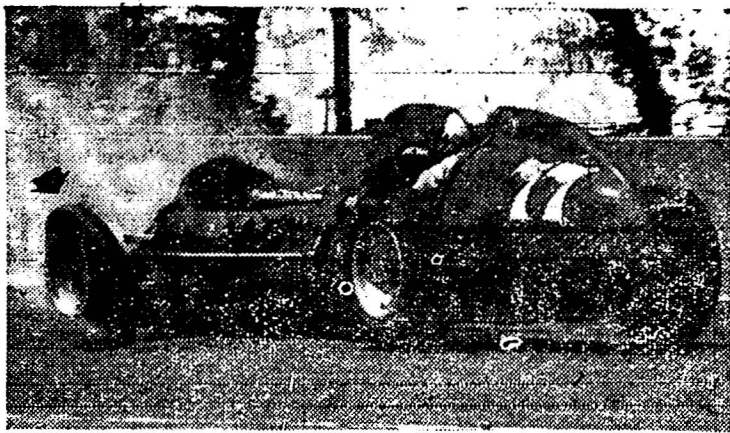

There is nothing like Marlboros, dear friends, to make you feel completely at home. They're so easy, so friendly, so welcome, so likable. The filter is great. The flavor is marvelous. The Flip-Top Box is wonderful. The tattoo is optional.

Decorating your diggings with familiar objects is an excellent remedy for homesickness, but it is not without its hazards. Take, for instance, the case of Tignor Sigafos and Estabrook Raunch who were assigned to share a room last fall in the freshman dorm.

Tignor, an ice-skating addict from Minnesota, brought with him 44 barrels over which he had jumped the previous winter to win the Minnesota Jumping-Over-Barrels Championship. Estabrook, a history major from Massachusetts, brought Plymouth Rock.

Well sir, there was simply not enough room for 44 barrels and Plymouth Rock too. Tignor and Estabrook fell into such a violent quarrel that the entire dorm was kept awake for twelve days and twelve nights. Finally the Dean of Men was called in to adjudicate the dispute. He listened carefully to both sides of the argument, then took Tignor and Estabrook and pierced their ears and sold them to gypsies.

And now all is quiet in the dorm, and everyone sits in peace and smokes his Marlboros, whose makers bring you this column throughout the school year.

MY CLOSEST SHAVE by Pat Flaherty

1956 Indianapolis Speedway Winner

"My closest shave was at Indianapolis in 1953," says Pat Flaherty, 1956 Indianapolis winner. "The track temperature that day hit 125° and the exhaust fumes hung right down at eye level. I was going into the north turn at 130 mph when the fumes got me. I blacked out, hit the outside concrete fence, and skidded along for 120 feet. The car was demolished, my helmet was torn off, my safety belt broke—but I didn't break a single bone!"

A Play Is Born . . . Rehearsals Of 'Roberta'

Scenes of the rehearsals of the San Diego State Musical Comedy Guild production of "Roberta" are depicted on this page.

The play, which is a musical comedy story of a football player turned dressmaker and a beautiful Hungarian princess, features the music of Jerome Kern.

The two-act production entertained over 1,000 people last weekend in its first two showings at the Hoover High School Auditorium. The play begins at 8:30 p.m.

UPPER LEFT: The chorus practiced many hours perfecting their numbers. Here Jeannene Fetterolf and the girls practice "Who" on the stage at Hoover.

UPPER RIGHT: At this stage of the game all the sour notes have to be worked out of the songs. There were 17 songs to be learned and the cast started early. Here the chorus works on the show's opening number, "Let's Begin."

RIGHT: The show had many dance numbers. Choreographer Frances Mettlach worked out the dances performed in the play.

LEFT: The play is directed by student director Ole Kittleson. Kittleson has produced SDS student productions for three years.

AND AT LAST: The final dress rehearsal. Lou Renzi, Martha Cook, Dan Dierdorff, Jeannene Fetterolf, Todd Van Every, Shirley Blackwell, Dave Boucher, Barbara Hall, and Gary Riggs take their bows, next comes opening night.

Student Vocabulary Evaluated In SDS Professor's Article

The average college freshman has a vocabulary of 20,000 words according to an article written by Dr. Sidney L. Gulick, English professor, and Dr. Darrell C. Holmes. The article, "A Vocabulary Tool for the English Teacher," was published in the February issue of College English. It is the result of ten years of testing and research on vocabulary.

The article, based on the Gulick Vocabulary Survey, reports that the average freshman at San Diego State has a slightly larger vocabulary than the national average for freshmen.

In eight of ten cases the result of this test can predict the grade a student will get on college board examinations. The overall grade point average at the end of one semester can be predicted in six out of ten cases, Dr. Gulick said.

The Gulick Survey is used for advising and benefits both teacher and student. Once a student is cognizant exactly how many words he knows, he improves, Dr. Gulick said.

Dr. Gulick became interested in vocabulary testing 20 years ago when he heard S. Stephenson Smith speak at Mills College. Smith had a similar test based on 20,000 words. After World War II, Dr. Gulick started working on his own test based on Thorndike-Lorge's list of 30,000 words.

Vaccine Response Poor

Out of 7,960 students enrolled last semester, a "slightly ridiculous" 1,259 obtained free polio shots here up to last Jan. 5, according to Dr. Frank O. Robertson, director of Health Services.

"Last year, when the vaccine supply was low, students were beating a path, and practically banging on our doors to be inoculated," Robertson said.

At that time, three free shots were being offered to students under 20 years of age. Because of the demand, the age limit was raised and shots were given to the 20-40 age group.

RESPONSE LOW

However, now that the Health Center is well stocked with the precious vaccine, student response has been practically nil, he said.

Robertson blamed the slowness of students here in taking advantage of this opportunity on "inconsistent education" and a general passive feeling about something which doesn't tend to affect them directly.

"San Diego County was one of the first California areas to set up a Salk vaccine program with its free service through various clinics," he said. "Last year, the State Legislature appropriated money for the vaccine, but currently it has stopped."

TWO TYPES OF POLIO

Most people know too little about the disease or else have false information concerning it, he said. Many don't realize that there are two types of the disease—paralytic or bulbar polio, which affects the basal part of the human brain, and the non-paralytic or abortive type, caused by resting or sleeping in cramped positions.

Those people who did take the shots are still not adequately protected unless they have had all three shots, each properly spaced. The second shot is given 2-6 weeks after the first; the third 7-12 months after the second.

This last and all important inoculation increases individual protection up to 90 per cent and gives longer lasting immunity. These shots offer protection only from paralytic polio, however.

VACCINE FOR ALL

"Although medical services are limited, an Aztec doesn't have to be a full-time student. Shots have been given free to students carrying only seven units," Robertson said. "Free vaccine will be offered as long as it lasts."

The danger of paralytic polio attacks will continue to exist in San Diego County as long as thousands of residents of susceptible are fail to get Salk vaccine shots, the San Diego March of Dimes Headquarters warned recently.

Any reservations about the vaccine's power will be dispelled by the 1957 decline in new polio cases, the March of Dimes Headquarters said. Throughout the county last year, there were about 7,500 cases compared with 15,400 the year before and a 35,400 yearly average between 1952-56.

Grapplers Face 3 Foes on Trip

Mentor Harry Broadbent's Aztec matmen traveled to Arizona yesterday, and meet a strong University of Arizona wrestling team today at Tucson. Tomorrow afternoon, the Aztecs battle Arizona State at Tempe, and Phoenix YMCA in a double header at Tempe.

The Aztec grapplers will be out to better their seven win five loss record. According to one of State's top wrestlers, Isao Horiye, "The University of Arizona has many standouts, and will give us a real good match." Not too much is known about Phoenix YMCA.

NTC Results
Last Saturday at Naval Training Center, in the NTC Invitational Tournament, two Aztec wrestlers, Isao Horiye, and Ken Roberts both placed in their divisions.

Horiye, in the 114½ pound division was awarded first place by a decision of the judges. Among others, Horiye defeated Mitsy Tamura of Oregon State College, who defeated him when Oregon met the Aztecs a week ago.

Aztec Rugby Team Win, Lose in Carny; El Centro Tomorrow

San Diego State's first Rugby team entered their first competition in history last Sunday, in the Annual Southern California Rugby Association Carnival at Santa Ana.

The Aztecs played two games, defeating Pomona-Claremont 3-0 and losing to Pepperdine College 3-8.

El Centro Tomorrow
Tomorrow afternoon, the Aztecs meet El Centro, at El Centro, in the first of seven regularly scheduled SCRA games.

At present the squad consists of 22 men, anyone interested in playing should contact the Rugby Club president, Rey Fackrell.

Top Players
Two of the Aztec's top players are Ian Richardson, and Jim Hansen. Both are highly experienced players, and were chosen to the Helms Athletic Foundation All Star Team last year.

Many of the other players have some background in Rugby, but most of them have only played football, which is similar.

Other Members

Second Man On Team

San Diego State's rhythmic team left for Arizona yesterday, and meet the University of Arizona at Tucson this afternoon, and Arizona State at Tempe tomorrow.

In their first meet of the season on Jan. 25, the Aztec Gymnasts beat Arizona State, and will probably do it again.

Against Los Angeles State College and Los Angeles City College in a tri-meet last Friday, in Aztec Gym, the Aztecs placed second with 39 points. Los Angeles State was first with 52, and LACC third with 35 points.

San Diego's Stan Levin was the standout of the meet as he entered eight events, won three of them, and finished second in four others.

Other Aztec standouts were Gary Albright, who placed fourth all-around, and Tom Podvin, who finished fourth in horizontal bars competition.

SPRING FOOTBALL

The start of spring football practice has been postponed to April 7, according to head grid mentor Paul Governali. The change is due to the number of prospective football players who will be engaged in winter sports up to that time.

"Practice will continue through May 2. All students are invited to participate," Governali said. Those interested may obtain equipment from Dewey Whitmore in the field house during the week of Mar. 24-28.

But if you want to enjoy smoking as never before, switch to Camels. Nothing else tastes so rich, smokes so mild. Today more people smoke Camels than any other cigarette. The best tobacco makes the best smoke. Try Camels and you'll agree!

Oxy First for Aztec Nine; Successful Season Cited

The CCAA 1957 Champion San Diego State Baseball team will begin their 1958 practice schedule Mar. 1, hosting Occidental College on the Aztec home field. With returning lettermen at all positions the Aztecs are favored to take the CCAA baseball crown.

The Aztecs have two All-Conference players at shortstop, Tom Rinks, and first baseman Jerry Smith. Smith led the varsity stickmen last season with a .349 average, and awarded the Ted Williams memorial trophy for highest batting average on the SDS squad.

Workouts for this season's squad commenced Feb. 1. Freshmen remaining on the varsity roster after the first cut are: Tim Carroll, Mel Rizzo, Stan Gilliland, Jerry Janguard, and Jim Perry.

The Aztec's schedule consists of 35 games, ten of which are against CCAA teams.

Aztec Quintet Loses Center Noonan; Loyola, Peps on Weekend Agenda

As if losing top Aztec scorer Archie Rambeau to the graduating ranks wasn't bad enough, basketball mentor George Ziegenfuss is also faced with the task of replacing 6'5" center Tom Noonan.

It was recently announced that Noonan is scholastically ineligible for this semester. Although he saw only limited action in the 15 games he entered, Noonan was valuable mainly for his rebounding ability. He was second in the rebound department.

Not Like Last Year

Although Noonan never reached the peak performance he attained last season, the fault lying mostly in injuries, was especially valuable on defense in handling big opponents.

Noonan's spot will probably be taken over by Ray Waters on a full time basis, with help from Jerry Mulder. Previously, Waters alternated between the forward and center positions.

Non-Conference Foes

The Aztec quintet takes time out from CCAA play this weekend, and travel to Loyola of Los Angeles and Pepperdine College tonight and tomorrow night for two non-conference games.

In their last encounters with the two teams earlier in the season, the Aztecs upset Loyola by a big 79-56 score and were easily defeated by a sharp-shooting Pepperdine quintet 84-68.

Blake Neal, and Jim Doherty at the guard posts, Bernie Finlay and Bill Gillespie at forwards, and Ray Waters in the center spot.

With the departure of Archie Rambeau, Finlay has taken over as the top Aztec scorer. He has tallied 156 points in 16 games, for an even ten point average.

Badminton Tourney Set This Weekend

The Women's Recreation Association will sponsor the Southwestern Badminton Tournament February 15 and 16, in the Federal Building in Balboa Park.

The five events which will be featured in the tourney are: men's and women's singles, men's and women's doubles, and mixed doubles.

An entry fee of 50c will be charged to cover the cost of birdies, and players must furnish their own rackets.

Semi-finals and finals will be played on February 16, with two games out of three determining the winners. First place winners will receive trophies, second place winners will get medals.

Colleges which will be represented in the tourney are Pomona, Santa Barbara, University of Arizona, Arizona at Tempe, USC, and SDS.

Lost to L.A.S

As a result of a thumping 75-46 loss to Los Angeles State College last Tuesday night, Loyola now has a five win twelve loss record. A major factor in Loyola's poor slate is that they are in the same conference as San Jose, University of San Francisco, St. Mary's and Santa Clara.

Pepperdine, considered somewhat of a powerhouse on the Pacific Coast, got a big surprise last Tuesday night, when Santa Barbara, considered a second division CCAA club, amassed a 59 point second half drive and drowned the Waves 97-83.

HIGH JUMPING RAY Waters is shown going up for two points against Cal Poly last Sat. night. Although he is only 6-2, Waters is the top rebounder on the Aztec team. In points scored, he boasts 15 in 18 games, for a 7.2 average. Waters can play either the forward or center position. He is a junior and will be back with the squad next season.
