Curtain Goes Up At 8:30 P.M. For 'Much Ado About Nothing'

Shakespeare Comedy Will Star Bonnie Gould And Dale Muchmore

Curtain time for the Aztec Theatre Guild's first presentation of Shakespeare's "Much Ado About Nothing" will be 8:30 p.m. tonight in the Little Theatre.

Additional performances of this Shakespearean comedy will be held tomorrow and on March 27-29. It will be free to all AS card holders, and public tickets can be bought at the Aztec Bookstore for $1.50.

GOULD, MUCHMORE STAR
Starting in the roles of Beatrice and Benedick will be Bonnie Gould and Dale Muchmore. They will portray the two young lovers whose only agreement is to disagree. According to Professor Hunton D. Selman, chairman of the Speech Art Department and director of the play, it is the constant warring and bickering of this couple that gives the play its contemporary flavor and appeal.

DALE MUCHMORE
BONNIE GOULD

Other leading parts will be played by Lucene Geer, Hector Terrance, M. Garver, Claudio, Albert, and Ed. Selman, director.

OTHER CAST MEMBERS
Other cast members are Jack W. Williams, Linda Zuckerman, Margaret Joan Kral, Ursula, Glen S. Huntz, Conrad, J. J. Jansard, Don Pedro, Dale O'Neill, Antonio, Dan Odum, Benjamin Harris, Rosamund, Fray Francis, Dick McLaughlin, Dogberry, and Jim Sloan and Ray Fackrell, who will be the assistant director.

The entire play, including the lighting, costumes, and stage settings, will be typical of Elizabethan acting and the Renaissance period. Designing the stage settings is Don Parnell, a speech arts major, who is doing this work to fulfill the requirements for his master's thesis.

Under Selman's direction, the SDS thespians will play this Shakespearean comedy as a light period comedy, especially playing down the serious aspects of the play which have confused audiences in the past.

Commissioner Sees Cheating At Rules, Constitution Tests

Commissioner of Elections Janet Wilson reported to the AS Council Monday that she had observed cheating during the Roberts' Rules of Order and AS Constitutions tests given to candidates in AS elections.

At Miss Wilson's request the council voted to disqualify anyone caught cheating hereafter. Those seen cheating before the meeting Monday will be given retests, Miss Wilson said.

Chairman Bob Clark told the council that April 17 the traditions committee would attempt to revive the tradition of Hello Week. The council added the chairman of the rally committee or his representative to the membership of the traditions committee.

Ed Blessing, lower division representative, gave the Publications Board report. He said that Sigma Delta Chi, men's

Russian Educational System Described As Surpassing America's

By BILL LEMONS

Russia's educational system is better than that of the United States, according to Dr. Homer L. Dodge, physicist-educator who recently returned from a month-long tour of Russia. He spoke to a capacity audience in the HS Auditorium Tuesday.

Foreign Language Field Day Slated Here Tomorrow

A Foreign Language Field Day, to be held on campus tomorrow will give language students from city schools an opportunity to show their knowledge by speaking before the public. Co-chairman Dr. Leonard N. Messier, said.

The field day, sponsored by SDS, will last from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and take place in the HS Auditorium and Little Theatre. A foreign language laboratory display of tape recordings, record machines, and other equipment, will be held in HS224.

Honorable citation awards will be given to students who score first, second, and third in the many language contests. Spanish, French, German, and Latin teachers, will be divided into various committees, each teacher being responsible for judging a particular contest. Of the languages, Spanish will have the largest representative group of students.

In pointing out the value of such a field day, Messier said, "Foreign language students really don't get many opportunities to speak before an audience in their regular classroom work. They obtain the chance to show to what extent they've mastered fundamental language skills through this field-day competition with others."

Choir Schedules Concert Masses

The San Diego State Concert Choir will sing two concert masses in Latin March 23 at 3:15 p.m. in the Music Auditorium, according to J. Dayton Smith, chairman of the music department.

The two concert masses to be performed are "Messa di Gloria" by Giacomo Puccini, and "Messe de Requiem" by Gabriel Faure. The soloists in "Messa di Gloria" will be Richard Knies, tenor; Dan Odum, baritone, and John Ross, bass. The soloists in "Messe de Requiem" will be Ruth Darrah, soprano, and James Upshaw, baritone.

Smith, who will direct the 59 members of the choir, said that "Messa di Gloria" will be performed Sunday for the first time in this area. It was first performed in the United States in 1952 after being rediscovered among old Puccini manuscripts by Dante del Fiorentino, an American priest who was preparing a biography of the operatic composer.

The choir, which has a reputation for its high quality of performance, will be joined by the San Diego State Symphony Orchestra in the performance of the masses.

Dodge, president-emeritus of Norwich University, Northfield, Vt., was first president of the American Association of Physics Teachers. He is on a national lecture tour under the auspices of Sigma Pi Sigma, physics honor society.

Dodge said that the rigid governmental control over the students is one serious detriment to the Russian educational system. He offered this as one exception to Russian educational supremacy.

"If I were asked to debate the issue of Russian education versus United States education for a $1,000 prize, I would choose the Russian side," he said.

RUSSIAN SYSTEM AHEAD

"I feel that the Russian system of education is that far ahead of ours. It is not the question of a Russian system versus a European education. Russia has made this high standard universally available, and we have not."

"In this country, we have our education universally available, but we have not set standards slip."

"Only two universities in this country can compare with the standards of the 37 Russian universities. They are California Institute of Technology and Massachusetts Institute of Technology," he said.

VISITED FIVE SCHOOLS

Dodge and his son visited a cross-section of Russian educational institutions in five cities: Moscow, Kiev, Kharkov, Rostov, and Stalingrad. Because of the standardization of education throughout the Soviet Union, a small sampling such as this gives many times the information one could obtain from similar visits in this country, Dodge said.

"It is disturbing to find how extremely well planned and equipped the Soviet educational system is."

"One is amazed at how much is accomplished in the 10-year school, which corresponds to our grammar and high schools. When they graduate from a 10-year school the student shaves all studies for five years, chemistry for four years, biology for six years, and mathematics through trigonometry."

19-Year-Old Entry Represents School In National Contest

Lois Fishburn, 19 year old freshman, was chosen as SDS's candidate to the "10 Best Dressed College Girls in America" Contest Tuesday.

The entry, including three pictures of Lois, will be sent to Glamour, sponsors of the national contest. A panel of the magazine's editors will choose the "10 Best Dressed" in April.

Lois, an art major here, was selected from a group of 35 coeds who were nominated by members of the student body. Seven finalists were chosen by local contest judges and after individual interviews Lois was announced as the SDS candidate. The judges were: Mrs. Marybelle Bigelow, assistant professor of art; Dr. D. B. Johnson, Aztec adviser; Mike Sullivan, Aztec editor; and Connie Clark, Paul West and Galen Knox, members of the Aztec editorial staff.

Lois was chosen on the following points: good figure, good posture, well kept hair, carefully used make-up, good grooming, imagination in making a clothes budget, a good wardrobe plan, appropriate behavior and off campus appearance, individuality in dress, and look.

Lois will represent the SDS in the national contest, which will be held in New York City. She will be photographed and interviewed by the contest judges.

Skinner And Brock Win Debate Award

Undeclared in six debates, Bob Skinner and Norris Brock won a superior rating to capture the highest award in the Western States Alternate Championship Speech Tournament last Friday and Saturday at Pasadena Nazarene College.

According to Dr. Robert Benjamin, assistant professor of speech arts, Skinner and Brock were the only team undeclared in the men's division out of a field of 22.

Winning an excellent rating, Joanna Paradino and Nella Feldman were the only undeclared team in women's debate.

Also winning excellent ratings were Sharon Peterson and Donna Bergius, extemporaneous speaking; and Helen Gannon and Maxine Shalk, poetry interpretation. Miss Shalk also received a third place in her division.

in higher educational institutions are either generously or moderately supported by the government," he said.

Dodge said that physical education is stressed in Russian institutes and universities, but there are no intercollegiate activities. "The universities are equipped with indoor swimming pools and gymnasiums," he said.

At the end of his lecture, Dodge showed slides illustrating the physical layout of several Russian universities. He showed several slides of the city University of Moscow, which has 27 buildings.

STRESSES BIG BUILDINGS

The main building of the University of Moscow is so big that a person started at both ends one day in each week he could be 60 years old when he finished.

The physics building is as big as eight or ten average buildings on an American campus. "There are 2,000 physics majors at the university," Dodge said.

In the wings of the main building are 6,000 student living rooms. Each pair has a bathroom and phone, he said.

EUROPE

Will see the usual, plus North Africa, Yugoslavia, East Germany, Czechoslovakia, Berlin, Denmark, Sweden, and Ireland. Now is a different kind of trip for the young who don't want to be crowded around the old.

The music of Broadway will come to the campus when the Associated Men Students present their AMS Follies free of charge at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Music Auditorium, according to Jerry Fisher, chairman.

The Follies will feature an hour-long presentation of songs from leading Broadway musicals sung by six members of the Starlight Opera Company.

Starring in the Starlight portion of the Follies will be three SDS students — Relene Keller, Ole Kittleson, and Todd Van Every.

Miss Keller, a new member of the Starlight Company, has been featured in many SDS musical productions including "The Messiah," "Carmen," and "Roberta."

Kittleson, a Starlight comedian, has played in several of the company's productions including "Show Boat" and "The Pajama Game." He also recently directed the State College Musical Guild's presentation of "Roberta."

Van Every was featured in the Starlight productions of "Guys and Dolls," "South Pacific," and "Show Boat." He was also a member of the cast for SDSs presentation of "Roberta," besides appearing in "Best Foot Forward" and "On the Town."

Other members of the Starlight Opera Company who will appear in the Follies are Mike Bogle, Joy Cannon, and Martha Gene.

Faculty members participating in the Follies are Dr. Lauren Post, professor of geography, rope act; Dr. Charles Webb, assistant professor of history, Dixieland act; Dr. Vincent Harris, assistant professor of mathematics, magic act; and Dr. E. Kingsley Povenmire, assistant professor of speech arts, a lion hunt act.

Del Sudoeste Problems Arrive Annually With Same Regularity As The Seasons

The seasons come and go at San Diego State just like clockwork. Early spring and rain with muddy ground are synonymous. And as usual, at this time of year, our yearbook, the Del Sudoeste, is in trouble again.

This time the trouble is a little different from previous years. Always before there has been a problem of time and of deadlines on the part of the Del Sud staff. This year the staff is doing a job that should be commended by all. Eric Smith, editor of the book, and his staff are well ahead of production deadlines. The book itself will be a thing of beauty with both black and white and color pictures. A book such as this will be kept by many for years to come as a reminder of happy college times.

The trouble this year seems to be with the price of the book. In order to publish the Del Sud a price of $5 has to be placed on it. Why this cost is necessary, who is to blame, what can be done in the future to eliminate this problem, and many other questions have been asked and hashed over for some time with no real conclusion.

It is unfortunate that a problem has come up, especially since the yearbook is being managed so well. This problem has also come at a time when the Del Sud needs support by all in its sales campaign. If the Del Sud is not supported this year, there might not be a yearbook at all next year.

To anyone who has ever attended a high school, a JC or a four year college, this yearbook is a permanent part of the school. It is felt by many to be the closing chapter of each year. It is also a wonderful advertisement for new students entering college the next year.

Let's hope that SDS is not the only school on the Pacific Coast without a yearbook. If everyone will support the Del Sud, a wonderful year at San Diego State will be capped off with one of the best yearbooks ever.

Only What's Put In

A well known adage is "we receive back only what we put into something." This is shown in student support of student government here at San Diego State. Next week the students will be asked to show their support to their government in two principal ways. First, is an orientation meeting of the Associated Student Council where all students are invited to attend and participate in the meeting. Students will be shown how the council works, and be able to see it in action.

The second showing of student support will be in the voting booths next Wednesday and Friday. This is where the "students" elect their representatives, hypothetically. This is the students' big chance to be heard and felt. Yet how many care enough to vote? How many care enough about the association and their $8 semester fee to get out and vote?

United We Stand...

One of the most treasured privileges in a democratic country is the right to vote. The effect of this privilege is that people rule over who shall be the authority and what this authority shall do.

Five days hence the Associated Students will elect representatives to 18 different offices in the AS, AMS, AWS and the WRA. If the voting turnout in past years is only equalled and not excelled, one can only expect the same old "ho hum" from the student council, instead of a change.

The "ho hum" system is not attackable since the students do not support their elected officials, but rather give them the ole thumbs-down when they try to accomplish anything. If student support were available the council could obtain many new powers and change hindering redtape precedents bestowed upon the AS because of its lack of support.

A united association has only one way to go, but a disjointed one has only one way to go also. The AS has been disjointed long enough. It is time for the association to organize and forge ahead. Only through cooperation of all students can change be felt.

It is up to the students to show student government and the administration of the college that we are no longer separate groups bickering, but a united federation which wants recognition. This can only be done at the polls next week. When student support lacks, the council gets lax. After support is shown, student union will have grown.

Vote for your choice, but please vote!

Chance To Support School

The council has come to realize that student support of student government needs to be stimulated. They have conceded that participation by all members of the association is needed to counteract the lack of support in the past.

Informed sources judge justly. The council is seeking to inform the students so that constructive criticisms can make our council a better council. Support is the greatest ally of any group. Lack of support is the worst enemy.

The council is having a regular open house by inviting all students to participate in Monday's council meeting at 3:30 p.m. in Scripps Cottage. Students are asked to bring questions which have been perplexing them to the meeting.

This is the first of two chances to show your support to the school next week. The invitation is open to all. The acceptance is up to each individual.

See student government in action. Maybe it will change your opinion of student politics, or maybe strengthen your opinion!

the SCENE and the HERD

By ROB BATTENFIELD

Troops, we're in a rut. We poke around this hill like a race of machines. A uniform pattern of conformity has caught up like a falling tree catches its own shadow. We have lost our grasp of the world scene and have become stuffy, regulated and conservative.

We are a mere herd of people, doing the same things day after day, week after week, experiencing nothing new, doing nothing different. Blood runs through our veins, and, surprisingly enough, it is rich and red. Yet we are dull, stuffy.

Our overly regulated pattern runs in a rut-wallowy monotony such as: class, study, class, coffee, study, lunch, class, pie and coffee, study, race for home, dinner, watch the TV news, study, watch Playhouse 90, wash face, brush teeth, fall asleep—get your head out of the wash basin, you automaton—go to bed, swing a sweet 40 winks, get out of the sack, lip down your breakfast, race to school, and on and on, unendingly.

And that's all you do.

You're a mole.

Other campuses possess students more creative, more vibrant, more alive—students who get a grip on what's happening, who have a happy time whenever that happy-time feeling surges within their unconformed, heteromorphic, uninhibited beings.

And what do we, the children of Montezuma's Mesa, do when that happy time feeling surges within our conformed, homogenous, overly assimilated beings?

We repress it.

Repressing it, it becomes a frustration.

And as a frustration, it chews on us, making us desire to be like all the others—to belong, to be a part.

So let us cast this repression aside, trample it beneath our tennies, sound the clarion call!

Take up new interests. Nose around your closet, find the right size rug and go out for rugby. Drop the routine.

Buy an Eskimo yo-yo and improve your reaction time. Take up modern dance and develop your calves. Learn Russian. Go into student government. Rent an apartment overlooking the ocean. Ice your garage and throw a skating party.

Rise up.

Shake your shackles.

Get out of your rut.

And learn to live, you mole.

Policy Questioned

Sir:

Your new policy of stimulating inquiry and facing the issues prompts me to write about a problem that bothers me (and others, I believe) every semester at registration time.

I am referring to the questions on "religion" and "race" that are asked of all students on the registration forms. The asking of a student's religion, it seems to me, is a violation of the provisions of the First Amendment to the U. S. Constitution, which establishes freedom of religion and the principle of the separation of church and state.

An institution established as an official part of the California government and supported by public funds should not be concerned with religious matters and has no right to ask its students to state their religious beliefs.

It is of interest to note that the U. S. Census Bureau has deleted questions on religion from the census. It is felt that no matter how "useful" the information might be, this usefulness cannot justify the violation of the principles of the First Amendment which guarantee to each citizen the right to believe (or not believe), according to his own conscience without fear of government inquiry.

The question of the student's "race" on the registration forms is equally baff.

Anthropologists, geneticists, and other scientists have pointed out the fallacy of the concept of "race," and they have further pointed out the dangers inherent in perpetuation of this false concept.

That an institution of higher learning, a community of intelligent and learned men, established by a democratic society, would maintain the practice of classifying men according to discredited ideas of "race" seems to me to be inconsistent with the principles and ideals it was created to uphold.

May I ask, then, through this letter, if it is possible to have such questions removed from our registration forms?

Sincerely,

JOE C. ORTEGA

Judging for this year's Spring Sing will be based on a 100 point scale, according to Betty Dawson, chairman.

Spring Sing, sponsored annually by the Associated Women Students, will be held at 8 p.m. May 9 in the Greek Bowl.

The judges will distribute the 100 points into nine different categories with the maximum number of points for the certain category stated on the judging sheet.

Those categories are quality of tone, intonation and pitch, diction, blend, accuracy and precision, interpretation, vitality of performance and stage deportation, which includes entrance, exit, and discipline on the stage.

The judges will also state on their sheets the outstanding strong points of the group, noticeable weaknesses and other general comments which will not be used in judging

The fraternity recently held a successful rummage sale, the proceeds of which go into a scholarship fund for a deserving student.

Tapping for membership into Blue Key was held in classrooms this year for the first time. President Norm Gaskins declined to say if classroom tapping will become the regular practice.

Finlay On Top CCAA Team; Rambeau Placed On Second

Aztecs Bernie Finlay and Archie Rambeau were selected to the All California Collegiate Athletic Association basketball team, the CCAA announced this week. Finlay was elected to the first team and Rambeau to the second.

In 10 CCAA contests Finlay scored 122 points for a 12.2 average. He averaged 11.1 points in the Aztec 23-game season.

It was Finlay's consistently high scoring that led the SDS quintet to a first place tie with Fresno State in regular CCAA competition. Fresno, led by 6-9 center Gary Alcorn and 6-3 forward Len Brown, edged the Aztecs 73-76 in a playoff game.

Finlay, who plays forward, stands 6-2 and weighs 175 pounds. He will be back with the Aztecs next year.

Rambeau, who graduated at the semester, averaged 17.2 points in six CCAA games. He averaged 15.7 points for the 18 games he played before he graduated.

Other choices to the CCAA first team were guards Terry Brazadier of Los Angeles State, Mike Simmons of Cal Poly, center Alcorn of Fresno and forward Bob Laemmle of Los Angeles State.

Track Squad Meets UCLA, USC, Fresno At Apple Valley

Coach Choe Sportman's track squad travels to Apple Valley tomorrow to compete in the Apple Valley Relays.

The Aztecs will be running against such track powers as UCI A, University of Southern California, and Fresno State College.

Shot putter Parry O'Brien, representing the Los Angeles Striders; pole vaulter Bob Gutowski of Occidental; and high jumper Charlie Dumas of USC will all be entered in the competition.

The eight events open for competition are the mile relay, two-mile relay, distance medley, three-mile run, high hurdles, broad jump, high jump, and javelin.

San Diego's two-mile relay team, consisting of Clarence Hamren, Jack Ratelle, Bill Gallaher and Mike Murhead, will probably be the Aztecs' strongest bid.

Spring Grid Drills Set; Gear Issued Next Week

Students planning to participate in spring football practice should draw equipment from Dewey Whitmore in the field house next week, March 24-28, according to head coach Dr. Paul Gover.

The SDS campus includes 285 acres and 23 buildings. There is a building program calling for 17 additional structures.

All men students are invited to attend practice, which begins Monday, April 7, and continues Monday through Friday from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. for the next four weeks.

That's to smoke (Yum!) every last one of 'em! That way, you get the wonderful taste of Luckies' fine tobacco... light, good-tasting tobacco that's toasted to taste even better. So, Ladies-and-Gentlemen, observe a pack of Luckies closely. Then carefully remove one (1) cigarette and light up. Presto! You're puffing on the best-tasting cigarette you ever smoked!

SDS Nine Tests 2 Foes

Rugby Squad Meets L.A. Club Tomorrow

San Diego State's varsity baseballers meet Pasadena College today at 3 p.m. and Brigham Young University tomorrow at 2 p.m., both games on the Aztecs' diamond.

Coach Charlie Smith said that he knows nothing about the strength of either of the opponents.

Bob Inlay or Bob Lusky will start on the mound today and either Steve Evans or Don Leigh tomorrow, Smith said.

Other probable Aztec starters are Rowland Hill, Bud Gardner, and Chuck Wagner in the outfield. Behind the plate will be Larry Schumpf or Butch Fleming.

In the infield Jerry Smith will probably start at first base, Marty Nellis at second base, Jerry Wayt at third base, and Tom Rinks at short stop.

Pitcher Evans "looks real good," Smith said. He has given up only one hit in 12½ innings. Against Marine Corps Recruit Depot earlier in the week he pitched 3½ hitless innings.

Coach Fred Quiett's league-leading San Diego State rugby team meets Eaglerock Athletic Club of Los Angeles tomorrow at 1 p.m. at Los Angeles.

The Aztecs are currently in first place in the Southern California Rugby Association with a 5-0 record. SDS has defeated El Centro, Ontario, Pomona-C Claremont, UCLA junior varsity, and Pepperdine College.

Eaglerock, who won the SCRA crown last year, should be the toughest team the Aztecs have played this season.

team spokesman Ian Richardson said.

This is the first year of rugby competition for SDS, and as a result, the Aztecs were rated in pre-season picks to end SCRA play in no higher than fourth place.

In games against Pomona-C Claremont, UCLA, and Pepperdine, the Aztecs were slated as definite underdogs. SDS reversed these impressions, however, by winning each game.

The top two Aztec scorers are backfield men Jim Hansen and Ernie Trumper, who have tallied 17 and 15 points respectively. Other backs who have played outstanding ball are Jack King, Bob Johnston and Bob Shank.

SDS splashed their way to a 17-0 victory last Sunday afternoon by downing the Pepperdine College Waves on a rain-soaked field in Aztec Bowl.

Golf Team Strokes With Long Beach

San Diego State's golf squad travels to Long Beach today to meet Long Beach State College in a California Collegiate Athletic Association match. The match is slated for 1 p.m. at the Virginia Country Club.

The Aztecs will be looking for their first CCAA win of the season. In their only other CCAA contest, they lost to Los Angeles State, 20-34.

The Aztec team captain is Jerry Davee. Members of the squad are Howard Donnelly, John Dorman, Kevin Fleming, Bob Gietzman, Mike Holmgren, Hollin Jackson, Walter Matrauga, Ron O'Connor, Joe Ruff, Tom Rupnick, and Ron Wickstrom.

There were 1436 graduate students registered last semester. Of these, 140 held master degrees from institutions outside of California, 78 held degrees from SDS, 58 from other California institutions.

Gymnasts Meet Occidental Today

The San Diego State Gymnastics team meets Occidental College at 3 p.m. today in Aztec Gym.

Oxy and SDS are of about equal strength, Gary Albright, a spokesman for the team, said. The win will go to the team that gets the best breaks, Albright said.

Much of San Diego's hopes lie with top pointmaker Stan Levin. At the Southern Pacific Amateur Athletic Union junior meet at Venice earlier in the month, Levin took sixth place in overall performance.

Three other top Aztec gymnasts are Albright, and freshmen Wayne Bell and Phil Thomas.

State Netmen Face 2 Foes

San Diego State's tennis team meets netmen from Long Beach State College today at Long Beach. Tomorrow the Aztecs return home and test Los Angeles State College at 2:30 p.m. on the SDS courts.

The Aztecs will be shooting for their second and third straight California Collegiate Athletic Association wins of the season.

The top six Aztec singles players to compete against LBS and LAS will probably be first man, Bill Jack; second man, Steve Clarkson; third man, Neil Olson; fourth, Tad Yamaguchi; fifth, Dick Smith; and sixth, Steve Gordon.

San Diego's three doubles teams will probably be Jack and Olson, first doubles; Clarkson and Smith, second doubles; and Yamaguchi and Gordon, third doubles.

If you answered "No" to all questions, you obviously smoke Camels — a real cigarette. Only 6 or 7 "No" answers mean you better get on to Camels fast. Fewer than 6 "No's" and it really doesn't matter what you smoke. Anything's good enough!

But if you want to enjoy smoking as never before, switch to Camels. Nothing else tastes so rich, smokes so mild. Today more people smoke Camels than any other cigarette. The best tobacco gives you the best smoke. Try Camels and you'll agree!
